Welding the shovel is Commission Chairman Bob Mace, while Herbert Perrill, kneeling, and Ray Warner steady the tree. Two trees, both sweetgums, are to be planted at the present time and two more will be planted this fall as commissioners refurbish the landscaping.

State legislators may vote selves big pay increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio lawmakers may include a $3,000 to $3,500 pay raise for themselves when a salary bill for state elected officials and judges comes up for a committee vote Tuesday.

The Senate Ways and Means Committee is voting on the measure and Chairman Michael R. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, said Democratic leaders told him they won't support the bill unless legislators are included.

Maloney said he expects amendments to the bill raising pay for state legislators from $14,000 to either $17,000 or $17,500.

The General Assembly voted last year to increase its salary to $14,000 from the previous $12,500, but Maloney said the current salary, without expenses, "is just not sufficient."

The pay bill would boost the governor's salary from $40,000 to $50,000.

Also proposed are $40,000 salaries for the state auditor, state treasurer and the state attorney general, all now paid $25,000.

The lieutenant governor, now paid

$17,000, would get $25,000 under the subcommittee version.

The bill also included across the board raises for judges, starting with an increase for the chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court to $42,000 from his present $32,000.

Unless the Ohio Constitution is changed, the legislative hikes will not go into effect until 1974 and 1976. Public officials cannot get pay raises until they are elected and it takes two elections for all House and Senate members to be elected.

Other judicial salary recommendations of the subcommittee are:

—Justices of the Supreme Court, now at $30,000, raised to $38,000.

—Appellate judges, now at $28,000 raised to $35,000.

—Common Pleas Judges, now paid $14,000 to $26,000 depending on population in their district, would go to a range of $23,000 to $33,000.

—Municipal judges, now limited to a maximum of $23,000 in the largest counties, would be able to go to $28,000.

—County court judges would get a raise of about $1,400.

Find OSU senior shot to death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A 21-year-old Ohio State University senior was found shot to death early today in an allnight Columbus grocery store where he worked.

Police said Timothy Gordon was shot at least once in the chest and once in the left leg.

A .38-caliber revolver was found on the counter of the food store. No money was missing from the cash register, police said.

students in the latest round of a continuing legal battle over state aid to private and parochial education.

The court invalidated a tax deduction program from New York and a tuition reimbursement scheme from Pennsylvania—two programs proponents had hoped would avoid the condemnation of the First Amendment's prohibitions of establishment of religion.

President Nixon has promised a federal tax credit for parents of children attending nonpublic schools, but action has been stalled pending a ruling on the issue.

While the court has condemned other tuition reimbursement programs, today's decision marked its first pronouncement on tax breaks for non-public school attendance.

Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr., writing for the majority, noted that the court has approved exemptions for religion from such things as property taxes. And he noted that these have a long history.

But, he said, special tax benefits for New York parents "cannot be squared with the principle of neutrality established by the decision of this court."

The court also invalidated New York laws providing funds for parochial schools in densely populated areas for heat, lights, custodial services and the like, and a program of direct payments to low-income families who send their children to nonpublic schools.

Believes Nixon involved in Watergate

Dean opens 'marathon week'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III testified today he believes President Nixon was involved in the Watergate affair but did not realize its implications.

Dean told the Senate Watergate committee he hopes "the President is forgiven" when all the facts are known.

The ousted White House counsel, who is expected to testify that Nixon knew about the Watergate coverup, released the first portion of a lengthy opening statement to newsmen in advance of his appearance today before the Senate Watergate committee.

However, Dean did not immediately issue the portion of his statement dealing with his personal conversations with the President last Sept. 15 and earlier this year. This testimony he saved to deliver in person.

Dean's advance remarks did, however, deal with his reaction to Nixon's statement last Aug. 29, when Nixon said Dean had conducted an investigation of the Watergate wiretapping that cleared everyone employed in the administration at that time.

"I had no advance knowledge that the President was going to indicate that I had investigated the matter," Dean said.

"I first learned of the matter when I heard it on a television news broadcast that evening...."

"Had I been consulted in advance by the President, I would have strongly opposed the issuing of such a statement...."

Dean said he knew at the time that Gordon Strachan, an aide to presidential chief of staff H.R. Haldeman, had brought information relating to wiretapped conversations into the White House.

Dean said Strachan had destroyed incriminating documents at Haldeman's direction.

Also, Dean said, he hadn't been able at that time to tell whether or not Haldeman knew about the wiretapping in advance.

And Dean said he had suspected that presidential counselor Charles W. Colson was "far more knowledgeable than he protested."

"Colson protested too much," Dean said.

Dean also said: —White House aide John Caulfield told him he had tapped a newsmen's

The court reversed a ruling by a three-judge federal panel that struck down the 1939 federal Hatch Act. And in a companion decision, the court upheld a lower court ruling that an Oklahoma state law barring state employees from engaging in partisan political activities was constitutional.

New Orleans blaze claims 29

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Most of the 29 persons killed when fire flashed through a second-story cocktail lounge in the French Quarter here were trapped by burglar bars on three front windows, authorities said today.

Fifteen others were injured in the fire at The Up Stairs Lounge, which was packed for the weekly Sunday night beer bust featuring all you could eat and drink for $2.

A survivor said he believed somebody dashed an inflammable liquid on the stairway to the lounge and lit it.

Fire Supt. William McCrossen said homicide investigators and the state fire marshal would take a careful look at reports that "some people smelled gasoline just before the fire."

However, he cautioned, such reports were unconfirmed.

Some small persons managed to escape by squeezing through the burglar bars on the lounge's front windows and then leaping to the street.

Summit holds prospects for thaw

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon says his week-long meeting with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev holds the promise of "peace for all the people of the world."

Brezhnev agreed, saying on Sunday that the summit with Nixon means "political detente is being backed up by military detente."

At the summit's formal end Sunday, the two leaders signed a communique during a televised ceremony outside Nixon's oceanside home here. That summary of the talks is to be released today when Brezhnev leaves the United States.

Nixon loaned Brezhnev his jetliner to fly to Camp David, Md., for an overnight stay before the Soviet Communist party chairman's departure today for Moscow via Paris. Nixon bade him farewell at nearby El Toro Marine Air Station.

Before leaving California, Brezhnev taped a television-radio speech to the American people that was broadcast Sunday evening as he flew east. In the address, also for broadcast in the Soviet Union and other countries, he said his talks with Nixon "really put Soviet-American relations on a new track."

At the signing of the communique, an ebullient Brezhnev said the 40-plus hours of dialogue might lead to another Nixon visit to Moscow "in six or eight months' time." The President's previous visit was in the spring of 1972.

Both Nixon and the Soviet leader pointed to two major summit agreements: a nonbinding accord aimed at avoiding nuclear war and a statement of principles designed to give new impetus to stalled strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) in Geneva.

Brezhnev was asked if talk of a Nixon return trip to Moscow next winter indicated a feeling that a new SALT pact could be completed by that time.

"We are working in this direction. But concretely, unfortunately, I cannot tell you anything for the time being," Brezhnev said.

Nine agreements were announced during Brezhnev's visits to Washington, Camp David and San Clemente. Left for the future were new curbs on offensive arms and the resolution of trade issues stymied by congressional opposition to granting Others left the building by smashing a side window and climbed onto a fire escape. A few made their way to another fire escape in the rear.

The bodies of those who did not make it lay jammed like logs against the front windows, with four huddled under a charred grand piano.

Some of the injured apparently were hurt in jumping to the street.

Authorities said there was only one woman among the dead.

Fire headquarters is but three blocks away. Units were on the scene in two minutes, said Supt. William McCrossen. The fire was out 16 minutes later.

Adolph Medina, 32, of San Antonio, Tex., said flames engulfed the bar in a short, panicked moment after fire broke out on the front stairway.

He said, "I was panicked about jumping, but two guys urged me to jump and I was small enough.... Some big guy on the ground caught me, and I kept looking back but my friend never got out."

most favored nation treatment to the Soviet Union.

Neither Brezhnev nor Nixon seemed unduly disturbed about the unfinished business, however, as both men placed heavy emphasis on summit accomplishments.

In his 48-minute television-radio address, Brezhnev rejected the "poisoned relations" of the cold war. "Mankind has outgrown the rigid Cold War armor which it was once forced to wear. It wants to breathe freely and peacefully," he said.

Saying he was "satisfied with the

Roger believes 'cold war' detente has citizen support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers agrees with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev that the "cold war" is about over, and he believes Americans approve of the thaw.

"There is every reason to think the American people support what President Nixon and Mr. Brezhnev have done," Rogers said in an interview while flying here with the visiting Soviet leader from the Western White House.

Brezhnev, in a nationwide radio-television address Sunday night, declared his week-long summit talks with Nixon "really put Soviet-American relations on a new track."

"That's the way I assess it, too," Rogers said. He added that he expects a softening in Soviet rhetoric.

"In all fairness it should be said that in the past the offensive language has not been one-sided," Rogers said.

"...Obviously we will have differences—continue to have public differences—but the rhetoric will be very different than during the 'cold war'."

Rogers hailed the agreement signed by Nixon and Brezhnev promising joint cooperation to avert the risk of war or nuclear disaster.

"It's a solemn commitment not to use force or the threat of force versus each other, versus an ally of the other, or against any other country," he said. "It also carries considerably further" the declaration of principles signed last year by Nixon and Brezhnev in Moscow

Five days have been set aside to hear Dean and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who has been accused of giving final approval to the Watergate wiretapping last year. Mitchell is expected to follow Dean in the witness chair later this week.

"I turned around and broke a couple of other people's falls, but there were one or two who just wouldn't jump." Quinton said: "The bigger people just couldn't get out."

"Bill Larsen, a pastor at the Metropolitan Community Church, got caught in the window, and I just watched him burn. He had one arm out, and I heard him scream: 'O God! No!'"

"In the next window beside him, three people burned to death while I could only watch."

President yielded no other results, it could still be said with full grounds that it will take a fitting place in the annals of American-Soviet relations and in international affairs as a whole."

Rogers stressed that the new agreement requires "urgent consultation" between Washington and Moscow even when conventional war anywhere in the world appears imminent.

The secretary of state said he was "quite satisfied" with the range of subjects discussed by the two leaders and that he believed the summit talks accomplished more than had been anticipated.

$1-per-dozen eggs in America's future?

By KRISTIN LILJEHOLM Associated Press Writer

Eggs at $1 a dozen and leaner days at supermarket meat and poultry counters are being forecast by some industry spokesmen. They say farmers across the country are caught in the middle between the 60-day freeze on retail food prices and a free-floating feed grain market.

"The poultry producer is in the unworkable position of having to pay out more than he receives," Abit Massey, director of the Georgia Poultry Association, said Sunday. "They are just hoping something will be done before the 60-day limitation of the price freeze. They can't last that long."

Bruce Hettle of the Poultrymen's Cooperative Association in California

predicted laying hens would be sold as stew meat. "That will mean fewer eggs and we could end up with a black market situation" and eggs as high as $1 a dozen, he said.

The Cost of Living Council said Saturday it is investigating whether the administration's 60-day price freeze, announced June 13, is causing food shortages. The Senate Agriculture Committee said last week the price freeze is threatening "drastic shortages" of some foods.

Government officials were not immediately available for comment on the feed grain price situation.

Some east Texas farmers have drowned hundreds of thousands of chickens. While no other food producers in the South and West have yet taken such drastic action, many are cutting back on output. They cite losses of 4 cents per dozen on eggs and up to 6 cents per pound on broilers because of skyrocketing feed prices.

One poultryman said soybean feed that cost $92.50 per ton last fall is in the $400 range now.

Feed mills — which buy the raw grain on the unfrozen market and must sell most of their processed product at frozen prices — are faring little better. Spokesmen for the Los Angeles Grain Exchange estimated mills were losing $6 for every ton of processed feed sold. Mills that were paying $3.41 per bushel for soybeans in May 1972 paid $8.50 this May. Corn jumped from $1.41 to $1.75 per bushel between March and May.

Food industry spokesmen said the cutbacks in flocks and herds could show up at the supermarket in eight to 10 weeks. Most agreed shortages and higher prices would depend on government action and the grain export situation.

While some producers of broiler chickens and laying hens were cutting back flocks by as much as 40 per cent, livestock growers were said to be selling hogs and cows normally used as breeders as a method of thinning herds.

Leo Johnson of the California Cattlemen's Association said prices for grain "have just gone completely out of sight." But he noted that the real crunch in the supply of livestock would come later when the animals enter feedlots, since feed on the range is plentiful this year.

Skylab crewmen doing well, see no bar to 56-day trip

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Convinced that man is "up there to stay," Skylab 1's crew today continues medical examinations and begins 17 days of reporting about its record four-week mission.

Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz flew to the space center Sunday night after meeting earlier in the day with President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev in San Clemente, Calif.

At nearby Ellington Air Force Base, they held their wives in lingering embraces and briefly addressed a group of about 400 persons, mostly space workers.

Mission commander Conrad said he and his crewmates left the orbiting space station in good shape for Skylab 2, a 56-day flight that is to start July 27 under the command of Alan L. Bean. "I'm glad to turn it over to Capt. Bean and his crew," said Conrad. "As far as I'm concerned, he's go for 56 days."

NORMAN CROSSWHITE

Crosswhite named Greene County detective sergeant

Greene County Sheriff Russell A. Bradley has announced the promotion of Norman E. Crosswhite, formerly of Washington C.H., to the rank of detective sergeant.

Crosswhite, 40, has been assigned to the Greene County detective section since early 1967. He joined the Sheriff's department at Xenia four years before his assignment as a detective. Crosswhite attended Washington High School and received his diploma while in the Army where he served two years as a military policeman before moving to Greene County.

Crosswhite is married and the father of three children. This is his third promotion since joining the Greene County department.

with Senate investigators, that he borrowed $4,850 in campaign money to finance his honeymoon last year.

He also made accusations against the President and former top aides H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, according to a summary of testimony Dean gave in closed session more than a week ago.

Dean reportedly said that during his only substantive meeting with Nixon last year, on the day seven men were indicted in the wiretapping, the President said Haldeman had told him what a good job Dean had done. It had been feared at the time that Jeb Stuart Magruder, the campaign's No. 2 man, might be indicted with the rest.

Committee sources say there is no doubt Dean will testify that Nixon knew of the coverup. The New York Times reported Sunday that Dean will testify Nixon indicated to him in mid-March this year that he had discussed an offer of executive clemency that was made to E. Howard Hunt, one of those convicted in the case.

Dean's private testimony deeply implicated Haldeman and Ehrlichman in the coverup. Dean said that before the Watergate raid he told Haldeman what had gone on at meetings in Mitchell's office, during which wiretapping was discussed.

Dean's accusations haven't been limited to the wiretapping scandal. He said that he has documents that show Nixon called off federal income-tax audits of personal friends, and that the President wanted him to keep a list of troublesome newsmen and indicated he would "take care of them after the election."

Meanwhile, Newsweek magazine reported that Frederick C. LaRue, Nixon's deputy campaign manager, has told investigators that with Dean's help $40,000 was obtained to help buy the silence of Watergate conspirators Hunt and G. Gordon Liddy.

Time magazine has reported that former Nixon aide Charles W. Colson, in what was described as an effort to clear himself of knowledge of Watergate, tape-recorded a demand by Hunt for more money. At the time Hunt already had received $200,000.

Colson is quoted as telling Hunt: "This is all very interesting, Howard, but I can't understand why you're telling all this to me. As you know, I don't know anything about the Watergate incident."

Skylab crewmen doing well, see no bar to 56-day trip

Kerwin, the crewman who suffered most from the effects of space weightlessness, shrugged off reports of his dizziness and nausea which occurred after the astronauts returned to earth Friday.

"I read some statements in the paper about my postflight condition," the physician said. "All I can say is that, if this is the worst that space can do, ... we're up there to stay."

Weitz thanked the space workers and said "it's been a team effort all the way."

Engineers and scientists will huddle with Conrad, Kerwin and Weitz daily until July 11, discussing all aspects of the mission, which the astronauts saved with a series of repairs that earned them the title "fix anything guys."

Space agency doctors reported that they see no medical barrier to the eight-week journey of Skylab 2, despite some early postflight dizziness that bothered Conrad, Kerwin and Weitz.

Stock list goes lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market retreated steadily today as Wall Street awaited developments in the Watergate testimony of John W. Dean III.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 8.43 at 871.39. Declining issues swamped those advancing 866 to 295 in relatively light trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the testimony of Dean, the fired White House counsel, was simply one of several uncertainty variables that added up to a minus for investors.

McDonald's Corp., down 3 1/4 at 53 1/4, was the Big Board's most active stock. Analysts traced at least some of the selling pressure in the issue of fears among some investors that low gasoline supplies would cut into the fast food chain's sales.

At the American Stock Exchange, the noon price-change index was .09 lower at 22.25.

The most active issue on the Amex was TWA warrants, up 1/4 at 5.

Young boys admit blaze

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two boys have admitted they accidentally started a brush fire that destroyed 11 homes in the fashionable Rolling Hills suburb, officials report.

Dry brush caught fire when the youths detonated an explosive flash powder mixture in a vacant lot Friday, investigators said on Sunday.

Within minutes, gusts of ocean wind whipped the fire into an inferno that later destroyed 11 homes, damaged 10 others and blackened 900 acres, officials said.

Damage was estimated at $2 million. Authorities said the homes were valued between $70,000 and $300,000 each.

Communists open Cambodian drive

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Communist forces made a twin-pronged advance today against a cluster of government positions protecting a key road junction nine miles southwest of Phnom Penh. Authorities reported heavy fighting.

U.S. B52s and F111s flew bombing missions against enemy concentrations in the area throughout the night, field reports said.

A major battle appeared to be shaping up around a road bridge at the village of Kompong Tuol, standing at the junction of north-south Highway 3 and provincial Rte. 38, which joins it from the east.

Insurgent forces attacked government positions from the south and the northwest, the reports said. Elements of a crack government division were deployed around three hamlets and the district town of Kampong Kantuot.

American tactical air strikes went on throughout the morning in support of the government defenders. Witnesses said the strafing was the heaviest since fighting began along Highway 4 a week ago.

Communist battalions taking part in the latest action had been concentrating there for several days after breaking off contact along Highway 4, the government's supply route to the deepwater port of Kompong Som. Highway 4 was reopened June 19 after nearly two weeks of fighting.

Earlier in the day, Communist sappers blew up a government ammunition depot six miles from Phnom Penh. The military command said several tons of bombs, artillery shells and napalm were destroyed, but no casualties were reported.

In Saigon, the Viet Cong announced it and the South Vietnamese government have agreed to resume the exchange of prisoners next Friday.

The exchange of prisoners was held up due to the Viet Cong's refusal to ensure security measures for members of the International Commission of Control and Supervision to travel to the release sites.

It was not immediately known what measures have been established for the commission to supervise the upcoming releases.

Right to die with dignity eyed by AMA

NEW YORK (AP) — The governing body of the American Medical Association is being asked by its Connecticut delegation to approve a statement by which a person can ask for "the right to die in dignity."

The delegation said the fact that medical technology to prolong life exists does not eliminate the need for "human choices" regarding the use of that technology.

Under the resolution, this statement would be made available to any patient:

"To my family, my physician, my clergyman, my lawyer:

"If the time comes when I can no longer actively take part in decisions for my own future, I wish this statement to stand as the testament of my wishes.

"If there is no reasonable expectations of my recovery from physical or mental and spiritual disability, I request that I be allowed to die and not be kept alive by artificial means or heroic measures. I ask also that drugs be mercifully administered to me for terminal suffering even if in relieving pain they may hasten the moment of death. I value life and the dignity of life, so that I am not asking that my life be directly taken but that my dying not be unreasonably prolonged nor the dignity of life be destroyed.

"This request is made, after careful reflection, while I am in good health and spirits. Although this document is not legally binding, you who care for me will, I hope, feel morally bound to take it into account. I recognize that it places a heavy burden of responsibility upon you, and it is with the intention of sharing this responsibility that this statement is made."

Sharp defense cuts urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharp cutbacks in defense spending, and the transfer of those funds to domestic programs, were proposed Sunday by a group of former top national security officials.

The transfer of $14 billion from defense to domestic uses was suggested by the group, headed by former Assistant Secretary of Defense Paul Warnke.

"Even a conservative analysis shows that some $14 billion can be saved from the Nixon proposal while fully preserving our national security and starting a return to a peace-time national budget," the men said.

Besides Warnke, the group included a number of long-time critics of defense spending policies, including former Pentagon research chief Herbert F. York, former disarmament director William Foster, former presidential science adviser George B. Kristiakowsky and former Defense Department officials Roswell L. Gilpatric, Townsend Hoops and Morton Halperin.

Irish Republic installs president

DUBLIN (AP) — The Irish Republic installs an Englishborn Protestant as its fourth president today amid a marked display of religious conciliation.

Erskine Childers, 68, is the second Protestant to hold the presidency of this overwhelmingly Roman Catholic nation but is the first to have won it by election. Dr. Douglas Hyde, the Protestant scholar who was the first president under the 1937 constitution, was appointed unopposed.

While Protestant and Roman Catholics fight in Northern Ireland, leaders of both faiths were to participate in Childers' inauguration.

Postal rates are frozen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Postal Service announced Sunday that increases in postal rates for periodicals and other printed matter, scheduled to take effect July 6, will be postponed under the current price freeze.

The postal service said it decided not to seek an exemption to the freeze.

The increases had been planned for magazines, newspapers, nonprofit organization material, books and records.

Current postal rate schedules mandated increases for certain classes of mail on July 6 of each year over five- and 10-year periods.

The postal service said current rates would remain in effect until further notice.

The ceremony was to take place in Dublin Castle, once the symbol of British rule in Ireland. It was to be preceded by an interdenominational service at St. Patrick's Cathedral led by Dr. George Simms, archbishop of Armagh and primate of the Protestant Church of Ireland.

Archbishop Simms was to be joined by William Cardinal Conway, Roman Catholic primate of Dublin. Presbyterians, Methodists, Lutherans and Quakers also were to participate.

Childers, a former deputy prime minister, was the candidate of the opposition Fianna Fail party in last month's presidential election. He defeated Tom O'Higgins, candidate of the governing National Coalition.

Childers has promised to promote reconciliation with Northern Ireland, where the Protestant majority is intent on keeping its links with Britain.

He has suggested calling an all-Ireland conference to seek steps toward national unity. Whether the idea gets off the ground depends largely on the outcome of this week's elections in Ulster to choose a new provincial assembly.

The new first lady, Mrs. Rita Childers, is a Roman Catholic and a former press attache at the British Embassy in Dublin.

Outgoing President Eamon De Valera, 90 and almost totally blind, left office Sunday at the close of his second seven-year term. He and his 95-year-old wife, Sinead, plan to live out their days in a retirement home run by the Sisters of Charity in south Dublin.

McGovern aide now prosecutor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top lawyer in the office of the special Watergate prosecutor once headed a task force on crime for Democratic candidate George McGovern.

James Vorenberg said in an interview that his role as a McGovern adviser was a very limited one. He said he wrote one McGovern speech on crime and held two press conferences on the issue.

During the 1972 presidential campaign, Vorenberg took strong issue with Republican claims that crime had been reduced during Nixon's first term.

At a Washington news conference in mid-October, Vorenberg challenged then Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst to debate the crime issue.

"Richard Nixon and his associates in the Justice Department have had the audacity to try to persuade the American people that the crime problem is being brought under control," Vorenberg said.

He said in an interview last week that he had expressed such views repeatedly before he joined the McGovern campaign. He also said that he knew relatively little about the Watergate case during the campaign and never had a role in any of McGovern's statements on it.

A professor at Harvard Law School and former executive director of the presidential crime commission that reported in 1967, Vorenberg is a nationally recognized authority on law enforcement.

He was one of the first lawyers recruited by Archibald Cox, the special Watergate prosecutor. Vorenberg joined Cox for a short-term assignment in helping organize the rapidly growing staff of attorneys and investigators.

"I can imagine someone saying it would be inappropriate for someone who was McGovern's adviser on criminal justice to have a continuing role," Vorenberg said of his current job. "The problem is, it will be hard to build up a staff of people who are kind of political neutrals."

Cox, a Democrat who was U.S. Solicitor General in the Kennedy administration, has emphasized his office's independence of the Nixon administration.

Vorenberg said he has never hidden the fact that he supported McGovern or opposed Nixon's policies on dealing with crime but, he added, "I was not particularly close to Sen. McGovern. I guess I saw him once or twice during the whole campaign."

He said he did not intend to stay at the prosecutors office beyond Labor Day.

Unsaniitary packing plants

Nearly 70 years after Upton Sinclair's "The Jungle" shocked the public with its expose of packing plant conditions, the jungle has not yet vanished from the American scene.

A random survey by the Agriculture Department's internal policing found unsavory conditions in more than 40 per cent of the meat plants checked. Eleven out of 38 were described as "unacceptable."

This report by the Department's Office of the Inspector General does speak of "considerable progress" in the inspection system. But it is evident from the following passage that there is still much room for improvement: "Many problems persisted, though audits and investigations had repeatedly reported these conditions over a six-year period."

The report says inspectors are inadequately trained, and speaks of many shortcomings among them: laxity, confusion, low morale, and in some cases misconduct.

Some of the conditions which go uncorrected because of ineffective plant inspection and enforcement are, to say the least, unappetizing. Some are clearly threats to consumer health. This is all the more intolerable since, as we are told, such conditions have been reported over the past six years.

One key to the problem is that reports periodically made by the Office of the Inspector General are not as a general rule made public. We are indebted to Rep. John Melcher of Montana for disclosure of the current report — which is current only in the sense that it is the latest one; it was made late last year.

If Agriculture Department officials are serious about wanting to clean house in meat packing plants, they should promptly release such reports.

Public disgust with conditions such as those just revealed would be the best guarantee of public support for corrective action.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

The leaden feet of the AEC

Wherever you look, government itself is to blame for the energy crisis.

The development of the natural gas industry has all along been stunted by government price-fixing that discourages investors. We have 250 years of coal reserves in this country, but the ecologists, with government backing, have dampened the exploitation of our most plentiful fuel in spite of the evidence that strip mine acreage can be restored to forest land, golf courses or pasture.

As for oil, the political shackles imposed on the companies waiting to bring Alaska North Slope wells into production are becoming a national scandal.

The worst count against the government is its failure to make realistic plans for the enlargement of the atomic-energy industry.

We have had an Atomic Energy Commission that has permitted the building of 29 nuclear plants. These generate less than 5 per cent of the country's total power capacity. Prodded by the ecologists, and fearful of litigation, the AEC has been properly sensitive to the dangers that would ensue if there were radiation leakages in densely populated areas.

Even so, the AEC has not done any balanced planning for a future in which the nation will be compelled to rely on atomic power as its reserves of oil and gas dwindle.

The grim story is told in an article written by Vincent Abajian and Alan Fishman for August publication in a technical journal, Physics Today. Mr. Abajian is chairman of the board of Electro-Nucleonics, a company that has pioneered the development of gas centrifuge processes that offer cheaper ways of getting enriched uranium than any now in use in the United States. Mrs. Fishman is his assistant.

Their article is not critical of the AEC, but when one reads that an Austrian scientist, Gerhot Zippe, has provided workable gas centrifuge technology for a British-Dutch-West German consortium while the AEC has been sitting on its hands in the U.S., one can only shake one's head.

A British gas centrifuge plant is now being built to replace older and more expensive gaseous diffusion methods of getting enriched atomic fuel. A number of so-called cascades, each with several hundred centrifuges, will probably be installed this summer, and by the fall of 1974 the British-Dutch-West German consortium should have three pilot plants in full operation.

While the foreigner has been moving ahead, the AEC has depended for atomic fuel on three costly government-owned facilities built a couple of decades ago at a cost of $2 billion. The nuclear power industry's needs for enriched fuel will shortly outstrip the combined capacity of the old plants, and by the early 1980s it may be too late to head off a severe shortage.

The question, according to Abajian and Fishman, is whether enough time remains to plan and construct new high-speed centrifuges to enrich uranium at prices that will be competitive with those that the West European consortium and a Japanese group, the Power Reactor and Nuclear Fuel Development Corp., will be charging.

The urgency of permitting private industry to build high-speed centrifuges in the U.S. is increased by "the possibility that foreign competitors might move to take over a large share of the enrichment business" that has long been a monopoly of the AEC itself.

RACING TO CATCH UP, the AEC is now constructing a pilot plant to demonstrate the gas-centrifuge process.

It will be ready by 1975, and will have a capacity greater than that of the Dutch centrifuge plant at Almelo in the Netherlands, the first of the continental European plants to go into operation.

But the question remains: why did the AEC dawdle so long before giving private industry the proper assurances that it could build centrifuge plants and make a sufficient profit on the deal to go ahead with raising the necessary capital investment?

The AEC is now permitting industrial firms to engage in development work, and the secrecy lid is off to a considerable extent. But if the British, the Dutch and the West German had not forced the pace, we might still be keeping the needed know-how under lock and key while the country continues to exhaust its oil reserves.

There is a movement afoot in Washington to give the Atomic Energy Commission responsibility for the development of every sort of energy, from the extraction of oil from oil shale to experimentation with solar energy and the gasification of coal.

In case of a change of this nature, the world "atomic" would necessarily be dropped. Heaven help us if the change were unaccompanied by a new outlook on energy needs that would get rid of the super-caution that has been killing us.

ACCORDING to the AEC's own predictions, our nuclear plant capacity will have increased by a factor of 30 within 20 years. The AEC is prepared to sanction the construction of new plants, possibly putting them underground to meet the safety requirements suggested by Dr. Edward Teller. But no plans have been made for an expansion in the nation's uranium enrichment facilities that will be necessary to supply the fuel for the

Hal Boyle . . . Let's do some oddball things

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is so confining. One never gets to do a tenth of the oddball things that occur to his mind.

Walking the treadmill of the daily glory keeps us so busy that the years and our lives slip away, and before we are ready for it we face the Great Confrontation that stills our dreams and footsteps forever. Even if we lived to be thrice a hundred years old, most of us would never find time to —

Neither sensible nor cheap -- just insensitive

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged woman who is presently dating a man a few years older than I am. He is loaded with money and takes me to all the finest places. He has a fine automobile, dresses expensively and beautifully, and is very good-looking. He sounds perfect, doesn't he? Well, he would be, except for one fault. He HATES to tip. And I mean he absolutely will not tip anyone a dime for anything unless that person has performed a special service other than what he is being paid to do.

For example: We will go to a restaurant and if this gentleman thinks the food is exceptionally good he will send a $5 bill to the COOK. (He says: "Why tip the waiter? He just serves it. The cook deserves the tip.") He will tip the waiter only if the waiter gives him extra special service.

Doormen get nothing. ("I can open the door myself," he says.) Captains get nothing. ("He's supposed to show us to our table.") Parking attendants get nothing.

This man claims he is not cheap-just sensible. Do you think he's "sensible" or cheap?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Any man who tips the cook for excellence cannot be considered "cheap." (Too few even think of it.) However, he should realize that many people who perform services depend upon their tips for their bread and butter. I know it shouldn't be that way, but, unfortunately, that's the way it is.

DEAR ABBY: I am 5 foot 7 (stocking feet), 20 years old and am told I have a very beautiful face and figure. My boy friend, who I am beginning to love dearly, is 5 foot 6. David is very handsome, but on the stocky side.

I find that the difference in our height bothers me. I am very uncomfortable when he and I are out together, and I keep hoping we won't run into people we know. When we do, I imagine they are thinking: "My goodness, SHE is taller than HE is!" I realize that a man's height shouldn't be all that important, but I am torn apart worrying about what people think and say about it.

I'm beginning to think it won't work out between David and me. I'm so afraid if I marry him I will always think maybe I should have waited for a taller man.

TORN

DEAR TORN: If the one-inch difference in height is such a serious source of concern to you now, you'd be wise to look for a taller fellow. You say a man's height shouldn't be THAT important, but face it, to you it IS!

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago I foolishly shoplifted a small item from a department store. I was caught, arrested, and prosecuted. Now my name is permanently engraved in the police files. Soon I will be looking for a new job, which brings me to my problem. On every job application is the question: "Do you have a police record?" Or: "Have you ever been arrested?" I am not a criminal, and I feel that I have learned my lesson. I don't want to lie, but I don't want to spoil my chances for getting a job.

Should I say "No" to the question? The item I took was worth less than $5, which the store got back anyway, and for which I paid many times over in many ways. Must I pay for this mistake for the rest of my life? If I say "No," could a prospective employer press charges against me for falsifying an application?

Please help Abby. Perhaps your answer could help other people in the same predicament.

SORRY

DEAR SORRY: Don't compound your problem by adding yet another offense to it. Tell the truth, and accept the consequences.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

TUESDAY, JUNE 26

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

You may encounter opposition in most unlikely areas. Try to find reasons, and aim to straighten things out — but amicably.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Aspects now stimulate your creative abilities and your imagination, but don't let the latter run "wild." Maintain a down-to-earth attitude even as your ambitions soar.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

A certain amount of daring could prove profitable now but, as with the Taurus, don't let your imagination run out of bounds. Stress your innate foresight.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Some astute checking could save you time, prevent wasted energy and costly errors. Don't divert efforts into unconstructive channels.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

The Leoite likes room for action, new projects, the means to improve unfavorable conditions. This day provides the opportunity for all of these. There's much you can accomplish.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Even though some outside interests may seem more stimulating, stick to obligations, the fundamentals on which to build a better future. Be realistic.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Without realizing it, you may be a victim of your own fears and misgivings. Pull yourself together. This is a day which calls for clear thought, definitive action — AND self-confidence.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Make time count. Whether handling large or small matters, don't let nonessentials get in the way of steady progress. Personal relationships highly favored.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

In both business and financial matters, use only time-tested procedures. Don't attempt anything risky now. And DON'T try for the unreasonable.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

You may have a tendency to be too impressionable now. Avoid becoming involved in ticklish situations into which you could be trapped — and which could cause trouble later.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Now you have a chance to display your showmanship; also your gift for being able to come up with a switch in tactics that changes the humdrum into the lively.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Stimulating influences foster inventiveness and creativity generally. An excellent period in which to try out new devices and methods, to capitalize on unique ideas.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with unusual versatility and could succeed in almost any field of your choice but you often lack self-confidence, thus holding yourself back through doubts and fears. Try to curb such apprehension since there is no limit to the successes you can attain once you find your niche and stay stalwartly on the path to achievement. You are more musically gifted and have more sense of drama than many other Cancerians, thus could make a brilliant success in either field. But this artistic bent does not preclude solid attainment in other lines, such as business, finance, mathematics or science. You are an idealist; at times given to too much introspection. Try to stress the outgoing side of your personality.

Don't throw away those large outer leaves of lettuce. Wash and dry them, then shred them fine. Use as a base for salads.

Ohio Perspective

State faces big highway problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans will be driving 64 per cent more miles in the next 20 years—and enjoying it less, reports the Road Information program in Washington D.C.

Included in the pessimistic findings of the federally financed study were: —Ohio motorists will log 92 billion vehicle miles in 1990, traveling on a state road system only 12 per cent larger than it is now.

—Cars are multiplying twice as fast as people in Ohio. By 1990, about 8.8 million vehicles will roll along Ohio roads, compared with six million now.

—Ohio is spending one-eighth the money on road improvements it needs to meet federal standards.

—An increasing number of Ohio's privately-owned public transit companies are on the brink of bankruptcy, while rush-hour traffic congestion steadily worsens.

Ohio needs to spend about $1.4 billion a year in road improvements, the report said. Currently, it spends about $200 million per year.

Sixty per cent should go for local

Ohio hospital outlays studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A legislative health care committee wants to take a look at how Ohio's hospitals are spending their money.

State Rep. George Mastics, R-3 Cleveland, chairman of the Legislative Service's Commission on Health Care, said the committee has the authority to inspect books of private hospitals.

The committee, separate from the governor's Health Care Task Force, reconvenes Thursday.

roads and streets, the report continued, and public transportation systems should be given a top priority.

About a dozen Ohio cities have either taken over local transit operations or formed regional authorities to assume responsibility for public transit.

Such regional authorities are eligible for financial help from demonstration grants and state mass transit aid, the road information report said.

One state, Virginia already is experimenting with an express busway system for commuters to and from Washington D.C.

The busway utilizes a reserve lane in the center of a major interstate highway to bypass nine miles of congested traffic. Bus riders save up to 30 minutes over the average auto commuting time. The number of riders has jumped by nearly 400 per cent in the past three years.

At least five other metropolitan areas have taken Virginia's cue and are now experimenting with their own busways.

Luring commuters out of their cars into buses also saves gasoline—now in critically short supply.

LEGAL NOTICE

TO ALL PRESENT AND FORMER ANNUAL RATE REGULAR POSTAL EMPLOYEES AND THE REPRESENTATIVES OF DECEASED ANNUAL RATE REGULAR POSTAL EMPLOYEES REGARDING POSSIBLE ENTITLEMENT TO BACK WAGES

This notice is published in conformity with a Consent Order entered August 26, 1971 by the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in settlement of Civil Actions Nos. 3593-69 and 3595-69. Its purpose is to bring this settlement to the attention of all persons who were full-time annual rate regular employees of the United States Postal Service (as used herein the term "Postal Service" includes the former Post Office Department) at any time between approximately March 4, 1966 and January 7, 1972, as well as representatives of such employees who are now deceased. The settlement involves the recovery of back wages for overtime under Public Law 89-301, for temporary re-scheduling under the conditions set forth under paragraph I-A below. This notice is intended to advise such persons of their rights regarding this matter. It should be read carefully.

The lawsuits described above were filed on December 19, 1969 as "class actions" on behalf of all such present and former annual rate regular postal employees. The named plaintiffs in these suits are certain individual postal employees and the following postal labor unions: American Postal Workers Union, AFL-CIO; Mail Handlers Division of the Laborers' International Union, AFL-CIO; and the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL-CIO.

I. SUMMARY OF THE CONSENT ORDER ENTERED IN THE "CLASS ACTIONS"

The Consent Order establishes rules regarding the payment of back wages to those present and former postal employees (or the representatives of deceased postal employees) who were entitled to, but did not receive, time and one-half for work performed outside of their regular schedule as a result of a required temporary schedule change as set forth below. A complete statement of these rules is not set forth in this notice. The following rules represent only the basic conditions which apply to claims. Detailed Operating Instructions and the Consent Order will be available to potential claimants, as indicated in paragraph E below.

A. Qualification for Back Wages under "Class Action" Consent Order

1. For the period from approximately March 4, 1966 to January 7, 1972, annual rate regulars were entitled to overtime wages under Public Law 89-301 for work performed during days or hours outside of their regular schedule as a result of a required temporary schedule change, unless the schedule change occurred while they were occupying any of the following positions: (1) postmaster; (2) rural carrier; (3) postal inspector; (4) road duty employee (as defined in 39 U.S.C. Sec. 3581 (1962)); (5) substitute employee; (6) hourly rate regular employee; (7) annual rate regulars who, between March 4, 1965 and July 29, 1966, were in salary level PFS-8 and above; (8) annual rate regulars who, between July 29, 1966 and October 6, 1967, were in salary level PFS-11 and above; (9) annual rate regulars who, after October 6, 1967, were in salary level PFS-12 and above or equivalent levels.

2. Any temporary schedule change on the part of an annual rate regular which was not made at his request for his convenience is a "required schedule change" for which the employee is entitled to overtime compensation for work performed outside of his regular schedule, without regard to the nature of the work performed under the temporary schedule. Temporary schedule changes made at an employee's request for his convenience are not compensable at the overtime rate.

B. Claims Procedure under "Class Action" Consent Order

1. The Consent Order establishes procedures for the filing of claims by present employees, former employees and the representatives of deceased employees who assert entitlement to overtime back wages under paragraph A above.

2. Claims Procedure for Present Employees (a) As soon as practical after July 30, 1973, all present employees will be notified by their installation head that their time records are available for examination. In most cases these records date back to the first pay period in which regular work schedules were assigned under Public Law 89-301, and end with the pay period terminating on January 7, 1972.

(b) Each present employee is entitled to be excused from his normal tour of duty for up to one hour to review his time records and will be compensated for that hour at his straight time rate of compensation. In addition, he may remove his records from the installation for the purpose of such review.

(c) Special claim forms will be available in all postal installations. It will be necessary for the employee to indicate on the claim form those hours for which he believes he is entitled to recover overtime back wages.

(d) An employee's failure to file a claim with his installation head within 90 days of receipt of notice that his time records are available for inspection will waive his right to present a claim. However, upon good cause shown, the time for filing a claim shall be extended.

(e) An employee may submit a claim even though his time records are no longer available.

(f) After an employee has submitted his claim, the local installation head will review it to determine whether the claim should be approved for payment. If the claim is denied, the employee will be entitled to appeal.

3. Procedure for Former Employees and the Representatives of Deceased Employees Essentially, the same rules apply to claims by former employees and representatives of deceased employees, with the following exceptions:

(a) The Postal Service will attempt to notify former annual rate regulars of their rights in this matter by forwarding a copy of this notice to their last known address on file with the United States Civil Service Commission or the appropriate Postal Service Data Center.

(b) Any former employee, or the representative of a deceased employee, who receives this notice from the Postal Service by mail must request access to the employee's time records in writing within 60 days of receiving such notice or waive his right to present a claim.

(c) Any former employee, or the representative of a deceased employee, who does not receive a copy of this notice from the Postal Service by mail must request access to the employee's time records within three years of July 1, 1973, or waive his right to present a claim.

(d) The time records of former employees are located at the post offices and postal installations where these employees worked. Accordingly, a former employee or a representative of a deceased employee may request access to such records (1) by visiting, or writing directly to, the head of each post office or postal installation where the employee was employed, or (2) by asking any local postmaster for assistance in obtaining such records. When making the request, a former employee must identify himself as a former postal employee who is requesting access to his time records under the "Consent Order Procedure," and must state his name, social security number, and the post office(s) or postal installation(s) where he worked. The representative of a deceased employee should follow the same procedure with regard to the deceased employee involved and must also indicate on what basis he or she is acting as the deceased employee's representative.

(e) Upon receiving notice from the Postal Service that the records are available for examination, a former employee or the representative of a deceased employee must submit his claim as provided in paragraphs B2(c)-(f) of this notice.

C. Notification of Determination of Claims

1. The installation head or his designee will notify the claimant in writing of the disposition of his claim within 90 days of the date the claim is filed. Failure to notify the claimant of a determination of the claim within 90 days will constitute automatic approval of the entire claim. If a claim is denied, the decision will state the reason(s) for denial.

2. If, within 30 days of receipt of the written decision regarding the claim, the claimant fails to advise the Postal Service official who signed the decision that he either (1) accepts the decision in full, or (2) rejects the decision in full, he will be deemed to have accepted the decision in full.

3. If the claimant rejects the decision, he may appeal in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Operating Instructions.

4. Employees who remain part of the class and also remain represented by counsel for the named plaintiffs shall be bound by such counsel's decisions regarding the settlement or other disposition of claims.

D. Payment of Claims

When a final decision has been made to pay the claim, the claimant will promptly receive payment from the Postal Service in accordance with the decision.

E. Additional Information

Additional information regarding the contents of this notice may be obtained from Donald M. Murtha, Esquire, counsel for plaintiffs, Department P, Suite 2036, 1828 I. Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. A copy of the Consent Order may be obtained by writing to Mr. Clyde Wilson, Claims Administrator, Room 3532, U.S. Postal Service Headquarters, 12th & Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20260. The Operating Instructions and claim forms will be available in postal installations when the claims procedure is implemented.

II. ELECTIONS AVAILABLE TO MEMBERS OF THE CLASS

The Consent Order declares that the named plaintiffs are proper representatives of the entire class of present and former postal employees entitled to recover overtime back wages under Public Law 89-301. Under the Consent Order and Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, members of the class are entitled to be advised that the following elections are available to them: A. Any person who claims entitlement to overtime back wages under Public Law 89-301, but does not wish to participate in this "class action" litigation will, if he requests exclusion, be excluded by the court from the class action insofar as his individual claim is not within the reach of Rule 23(b)(1) or (2), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Such exclusion must be requested by letter addressed to the undersigned at P.O. Box 978, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, D.C.

20044, postmarked not later than midnight, July 15, 1973. Any person who does not elect to be so excluded will be fully bound by the settlement in this litigation. A person who elects to be so excluded from the class will be free, subject to the adjudication of issues within the reach of Rule 23(b)(1) or (2), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, to pursue whatever individual legal remedies he may have. If he should independently recover back wages under Public Law 89-301, he may nevertheless be required under law to pay attorney fees to the counsel who initiated these "class actions."

B. If a person does not so request exclusion from the class by July 15, 1973, he will automatically be included in the class, and his entitlement will be determined under the Consent Order and any subsequent orders the court may enter in the matter, and he will be bound thereby.

C. If any such person does not request exclusion from this "class action" litigation, but elects to be represented by his own counsel rather than by counsel for the named plaintiffs, his counsel must enter an appearance in this litigation not later than July 15, 1973.

III. FINAL HEARING PRIOR TO THE COURT ENTERING PARTIAL FINAL JUDGMENT

The Consent Order referred to under I above was entered into with a view to effecting the expeditious processing of all the individual claims involved in this class-action litigation. The Court has now preliminarily entered (in accordance with Rule 23(d), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure) a further Order and Decision implementing the Consent Order, which (1) approves the detailed operating instructions under the Consent Order; and (2) determines several legal issues incident to implementation of the Consent Order, as to which parties were unable to reach agreement. (The detailed operating instructions under the Consent Order have now been designated "Back Pay Claims Instructions, etc.") The Court will conduct a Final Hearing on all issues which have been decided by the Court in this litigation, in Courtroom 22, United States Court House, 3d Street and Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. at 10:00 a.m. on July 30, 1973. Any person claiming to be a member of the class who wishes to be heard in this matter by an attorney other than the attorneys who represent the original plaintiffs in this litigation, will be afforded due opportunity to be heard thereat by his attorney, provided his attorney so notifies the undersigned Clerk of Court in writing prior to July 15, 1973.

The Court will upon conclusion of that hearing enter an order effecting partial Final Judgment disposing of all issues which have been decided as of the date of such Final Judgment, subject to the Court, upon being advised by the parties that all aspects of the controversy have been settled, entering the Final Judgment contemplated by the Consent Order, as heretofore amended.

The parties have reached agreement to submit to final and binding arbitration, individual disputes remaining upon conclusion of the U.S. Postal Service's processing and decision as to the individual claims, in lieu of court proceedings thereafter.

The Consent Order and Implementing Order and Decision and the parties' agreement for final and binding arbitration as finally approved by the Court upon conclusion of the indicated Final Hearing will govern the processing of all individual claims, including any arbitration proceedings.

IV. COUNSEL FEES AND EXPENSES

The matter of counsel fees and expenses for services heretofore rendered by counsel bringing this action and of counsel fees and expenses for services which may be rendered hereafter by original or other counsel will be determined by the Court after the date of the Final Hearing.

V. COMMUNICATION WITH COURT TO BE ONLY BY PLEADING OR MOTION

Any person wishing further information about this litigation may communicate with Donald M. Murtha, Esq. counsel for plaintiffs, whose address is set forth under IE above. All communication with the Court shall be by formal pleading or motion, with copies thereof served upon counsel for the parties. PLEASE DO NOT WRITE OR CALL THE COURT.

Evening ceremony unites Miss Edwards, Mr. Jones

The Rev. Don Baker officiated for the marriage of Debra Lynn Edwards and William Francis Jones II, in the First Christian Church. The double-ring service was read June 8 at 7:30 p.m., by candlelight. Two 7-branch candelabra and sets of candles with mint bows, in each window, lighted the scene. A large basket on the altar held yellow and white daisies and white carnations, with baby's breath. The family pews were marked with mint bows and greenery.

Miss Edwards is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edwards, 324 Ely St., and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William F. Jones, 926 Old Chillicothe Rd.

A medley of love songs was played by Miss Elaine Stookey on the church organ, a half hour before the ceremony. Miss Cheryl White accompanied Randy Woods, soloist.

Circle discusses work on banner

The June meeting of Circle 4, First Presbyterian Church was held in the church parlor, with members telling of memorable vacations in answer to roll call.

Mrs. Donald Wood told the group of a volunteer program to assist persons with problems, drug problems, thoughts of suicide and such, and Mrs. Loren Noble read about an area in Japan, needing help. Mrs. Walter Coil led in prayer for the projects assisting such people. Mrs. Richard Maddux, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Herbert Stolsenberg and Mrs. Bill Carson read from the book of Acts in the Bible, while Mrs. Coil, Mrs. Noble, Mrs. James Purcell and Mrs. Leonard Stephenson read from the book of Habakkuk.

Following the usual reports, the group spent the evening discussing the "banner of confession" the Circle is working on and decided to schedule an afternoon of intensive work on it.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Ralph Leeds, Mrs. Purcell and Mrs. Stephenson.

June 18-25 July 2

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length A-line gown with a short attached train. In bridal satin, the bodice, front and back had an overlay of Alencon lace, with seed pearls, the skirt similarly overlaid in lace. Fifty pearl buttons were down the front of the dress, with full sleeves and wide cuffs. The elbow-length veil, attached to a fitted crown cap, was of white bridal illusion with lace motifs. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white daisies with white miniature roses, stephanotis and baby's breath. She wore a tiny pearl pendant and earrings, the gift of the groom.

Miss Kris Meriweather, of Port Orange, Fla., was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Grooms and Miss Barbara Jones. Miss Meriweather wore a mint green, dotted swiss, floor-length frock and had a large-brimmed hat with ribbon streamers. The bridesmaids wore duplicate dresses, in yellow, with yellow hats. They carried small white baskets, filled with yellow and white daisies and baby's breath. They wore engraved charm necklaces, gifts from the bride. The bride's mother made the bridal gown and those of the attendants.

Best man was Jim Armstrong, of Sabina and the ushers were Richard Grooms, the groom's brother-in-law, and Douglas White, the bride's cousin. The groom wore a blue Lindy star ring, a gift of the bride, and presented his best man and the ushers with leather key-cases.

Mrs. Edwards wore a long, mint green double-knit frock with lattice effect on the bodice and sleeves and Mrs. Jones was attired in a long light aqua crepe, with jacket. Their corsages were of white miniature roses.

A reception in the church social room followed the ceremony with a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated in yellow and green, yellow punch and yellow and green mints. Women's Interests

Washington C.H. (O.) Record-Herald - Page 6

'Dial-a-dress' caters to lazy

LAZY WOMEN helped found a different kind of fashion business in Paris, according to Gabriel Italic, who makes house calls to women who wish to buy a new dress.

By ALISON LERRICK
PARIS (AP) — "I've got absolutely nothing to wear!"

But why take the trouble to trundle to your neighborhood boutique — or to sigh, "Dior, James" — when you can simply dial-a-dress?

"Women are lazier than you think," says Gabriel Italic, an ex-Florentine whose name is a clue to his origins and who prefers to be known by his telephone number instead of his address.

He recently opened Anacapi, the lazy woman's little dressmaker, and since then ears haven't stopped ringing.

Contrary to common myth, "women hate to shop," says Italic, summing up the experience of a decade or two as dress and fabric designer. Anacapi is therefore dedicated to "making beautiful clothes" for the stationary set.

The name for such an ambitious venture he settled on in honor of "Old Capri and because it's easy to remember. No one remembers my name," he says wistfully, "except for a few privileged people."

So, for the price of a dime, Italic — curly hair, sunglasses and suitcase stuffed with fabric swatches — zooms in on your doorstep. The finished dress, with a fitting or two thrown in for good measure, can be ready in a minimum of 24 hours.

The bill, housecall included: $120 for "a little dress for dinner with close friends" up to $400, if you insist on wads of embroidery.

To speed up matters, he occasionally is bold enough to suggest that customers come to his apartment-atelier on the outskirts of Paris, but the answer is unanimously "no."

Shrugs Italic as surveyor of two super-bourgeois districts: "In Neuilly they move sometimes, but the people in Passy are the laziest in the world." Willy-nilly, he has become a part-time sociologist, as one of the hazards of his business.

Laziness, however, does not just begin at home.

"I keep getting letters from women in the provinces begging me to dress them by mail," he complains. anacapi is even equipped for export and, to date, foreign clients include two in Amsterdam and one apiece in Brussels and Philadelphia.

When it comes to dressing people long distance, Italic prefers that women "describe themselves rather than sending their measurements." Helpful hints from shameless women range from "round back" to "pointed bust."

"After all," he says, "it's much more instructive to know if a woman has a round bust than how big it is. My method is rational and serious. It's a question of concentrating on the problem."

Often as not, he handles "problem women." One fat woman, he says with pride, "went to America with suitcases full of my dresses. She especially wanted a dress in crepe de chine and, for her... well, it wasn't easy to find."

And, if a woman can't find anything in his collection of 50 dresses, Italic will design a little nothing exclusively for her, "according to her personality... whether it's grim or frivolous." In such extra efforts, he is aided by the opportunity to snoop around his customers' dwelling places.

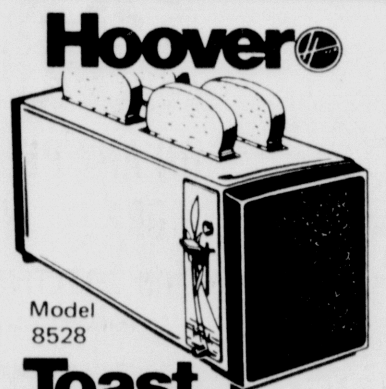

"I discuss their problems, of course, but more important I see their backgrounds. If you have even the tiniest gift for psychology, this can be very revealing," he confesses. "Since the woman is going to get dressed at home, her clothes might as well go with her apartment."

Just the other day, for example, he prevented due to a kind heart and an aesthetic nature - a customer from buying a yellow suit. "I said I can't let you leave here in a yellow suit." And Italic shudders at the horror of the memory.

"You understand," he adds in confidence, "with her hair, she would have looked hideous. And, knowing her background, she would never have had the time to get suntanned enough to go with a yellow suit."

But, besides keeping pale women away from yellow, Italic has another more pressing ambition: to open a boutique downstairs.

"There are high-rise apartment buildings all around, and it's much more agreeable to have a boutique next door than to have to walk all the way to the nearest shops," he explains. "That takes at least five minutes."

7 Ohioans are drowned on weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"The Pit" in the Great Miami River claimed four more victims over the weekend, raising the total drowned there in the last five years to 25.

The victims were among seven Ohioans who lost their lives in drowning accidents over the weekend.

"The Pit," according to Whitewater Township Fire Chief James Burns, is at the confluence of the Great Miami and Whitewater rivers in western Hamilton County.

The rivers create a whirlpool in a deep, underwater pit. He said he doesn't expect the pool to give up the bodies before Monday or Tuesday night.

David Roach, 19, of Cincinnati was one of two people who drowned Sunday while firemen were searching for the bodies of two men drowned in the same place Saturday night.

The second victim, of Norwood, was not immediately identified.

Burns said the pool, under the U.S. 50 bridge, normally is marked with signs warning swimmers of the "treacherous" water, but "the signs were carried away by high water."

Drowned there Saturday night were Ralph Hensley, 23, of Cincinnati, and Kenneth Hatton, 35, of Newport, Ky.

In drownings elsewhere, Scott Born, 7½, drowned Sunday in a water filled quarry in Salisbury Park near Kenton. The boy had been camping there with his parents.

Near Springfield, Dennis S. Hostetter, 30, drowned in a flooded gravel pit in western Clark County Sunday.

Ronnie Whitaker, 21, of Mount Orab, drowned early Sunday morning in a boating accident on Lake Grant in Brown County.

Reckless driving is just as dangerous on water as it is on land, reminds the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. Ohio boaters are urged to operate their crafts safely. Don't speed when close to other watercraft. Avoid the vicinity of dams or other hazardous structures as well as swimming areas.

Snake handlers ignore court ban

SWITZER, W. Va. (AP) — A baby was the only quiet thing during the sweltering, swaying three and a half hour service at the Full Gospel Jesus Church.

Even the poisonous snakes made their presence known, the rattlers sending up an occasional ominous buzzing with their tails from the cages beside the pulpit.

About 100 persons praised the Lord at the top of their lungs and with all of their energy in the neat cement block building sandwiched between the Royal Crown Bottling Co. and the Mico Drive-In in this little town just south of Logan.

Cymbals, two drums, a tambourine and four guitars—two of them electric and one with a Confederate flag decal—accompanied the spirited singing of such songs as "Give Me That Old-Time Religion" and "You Gotta Move."

The building rocked and the crowd reached fever pitch during the singing of the latter song, and frenzied devotees showed their faith by brazenly handling the serpents.

Twice during the long Sunday afternoon about half the congregation surged around the boxes containing, according to the Rev. Kelly Williams, bishop of the church, eight rattlesnakes and five copperheads.

4 taken hostage at prison; inmates demands under study

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three Kentucky State Penitentiary convicts released four hostages unharmed today after holding them for 18 hours in the canteen of the fortresslike prison in Western Kentucky.

The three surrendered and turned in two long knives and a soldering tool they had used to hold a prison guard, civilian employee and two inmates.

The three made a series of written demands and among the major ones was a transfer to the state reformatory at LaGrange.

The hostages were taken home immediately, except for the two inmates. They said they had been generally well treated although they looked shaken.

Authorities of the prison, on the banks of the Cumberland River, identified the three convicts as Jerry Tingle, 20, of Carrollton, under a five-year sentence for storehouse breaking; Gerald Fair, 24, of Lexington, sentenced to ten years for armed assault with intent to rob; and Danny Lee Dobson, 23, of Louisville, serving 18 years for storehouse breaking and holding a hostage.

Authorities said Dobson and Tingle were among five prisoners who held several hostages about nine months ago in a similar episode. Tingle has not yet been tried for that incident.

Explosions damage Holiday Inn site

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Suburban Independence police said they were investigating two explosions which caused $50,000 damage at a Holiday Inn construction site Sunday.

Police said the two blasts rattled dishes in nearby homes but apparently only damaged concrete room forms at the rear of the site.

NOTICE

All artificial flowers must be removed by July 1st.

WAYNE TOWNSHIP CEMETERY

Corrections Commissioner Charles Holmes flew from Frankfort during the night to the prison 250 miles away, to "get things moving" after a deadlock ensued between the three convicts and prison officials.

Holmes refused to talk to the prisoners until the hostages were released. Conversations were carried out mainly by telephone, although guards occasionally approached the door of the canteen to exchange words.

Airport 'Fly-In' said 'best ever'

More than 100 airplanes from various parts of Ohio and other states visited the Fayette County Airport Sunday, making the airport's annual "fly-in" the "best ever," according to Mrs. Judy Dennis, who assists her husband, Bill Dennis, in the management of the facility.

An estimated crowd of 1,000, including pilots and visitors who drove to the airport, was on hand for the day's festivities, including a breakfast and spot landing and "bombing" competition.

Tom Romph, who is receiving his pilot's training from Bill Dennis, airport manager, won the spot landing contest, with Eddie Bowers, Columbus, second.

In the "bombing" contest (with large sacks of flour substituting for bombs) the Hogan brothers, of Hamilton County, took the first place prize with the runnerup trophy going to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis.

SHERIDAN LOYD, 72, Madison, Ind., was the oldest pilot at the fly-in. The father of Larry Loyd, 225 N. Hinde St., he is still an active pilot and instructor.

The youngest pilot was Mike Lutz, 18, Findlay.

Jack Harris, Cortland, was the pilot flying in from the greatest distance.

Norman Crabtree, of the Ohio Division of Aviation, was the master of ceremonies for the competition and co- judged the events with Mark Carr, also of the state aviation division.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

WASHINGTON — Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev's visit to the United States marks the second meeting between President Nixon and the "Chairman" in 13 months.

Considering the fact that prior to last year's summit a full 14 years had lapsed between an official meeting of American and Russian heads of state, this event in itself is a remarkable breakthrough.

The agreements reached during this latest summit — while not on the level of the major accords resulting from President Nixon's historic trip to Moscow last year — are extremely significant.

Not only do the expanded technological and cultural exchanges promise to benefit both nations, but they also contribute to a further relaxation in the strained relations between Russia and the United States. It is hoped that in the atmosphere of goodwill generated by these pacts, the more serious and critical matters of nuclear disarmament, trade policy and the conflicts in Southeast Asia and the Mideast can be discussed and peaceful solutions eventually reached.

Unquestionably, the detente with Russia is a great credit to President Nixon's skillful and highly successful foreign policy initiatives. Moreover, it is an important step toward relieving world tensions.

WSHS graduate at conference in Washington

J. Mike Domenico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Domenico, 137 River Rd., is attending the 1973 Youth Governors' Conference sponsored by the National Council of YMCAs. The event is being held in Washington D. C. through June 30.

The 75 youths attending are to be given the opportunity to meet with government officials to discuss national and international politics, national problems and foreign affairs.

Attending the conference are young people who were elected to the office of governor at the YMCA Youth in Government Programs, youths who were elected chief justice of the model state Supreme Court, and the young people who were elected secretary-general of the model United Nations Programs.

Domenico is a 1973 graduate of Washington Senior High School and was president of the Hi-Y Club. He was elected youth chief justice of the model Ohio Supreme Court at the Hi-Y Youth in Government Program in Columbus.

The division of watercraft of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources reminds all Ohio boaters to tell a friend or relative when, where and for how long they're going when they go on a boating cruise. The boater should be sure to provide a description of the boat. If the boater has an accident, the information could save his life and the lives of others on the boat.

AS THE ranking minority member of the House Public Works Committee, which deals with many of this country's transportation matters, I attended the ceremony at which the first of these U.S. - Russian pacts — involving cultural exchanges and the joint research of transportation, farming and oceanography — was signed. In all of these areas, both the United States and Russia stand to gain from the exchange.

The agricultural agreement, for example, calls for the exchange of information and estimates on production, consumption, demand and trade in major agricultural commodities and for increased cooperation in agricultural research. Such a program could help U.S. experts better predict the need for future Soviet grain sales, and this type of data could have a direct impact on Ohio farmers and their own grain production.

Under the transportation agreement, the United States may benefit from Russian know-how about operating transportation systems and building bridges and tunnels in extremely cold weather. Specifically, the five-year pact calls for exchange of information about cold weather construction, railway transportation, civil aviation, traffic control and safety, and maritime and automobile problems.

COMBINED with existing and successful exchange programs with Russia on such important common interests as the environment, medicine and space exploration, these new pacts promise to further enhance our relations with that country. However, they do not solve the more serious matters of nuclear disarmament and trade negotiations where we cannot afford to compromise either our defense posture or our economy.

On trade, Mr. Brezhnev is seeking large-scale, long term agreements and conferment of the economically advantageous "most favored nation" trade status with America. Possible trade areas involved Russian natural gas and other resources for modern American technological and agricultural products.

I am vitally concerned, particularly in view of the Russian wheat sales last year which contributed to increased food prices in America, that we do not engage in a trade policy tantamount to subsidizing Soviet growth at the expense of the American farmer and consumer.

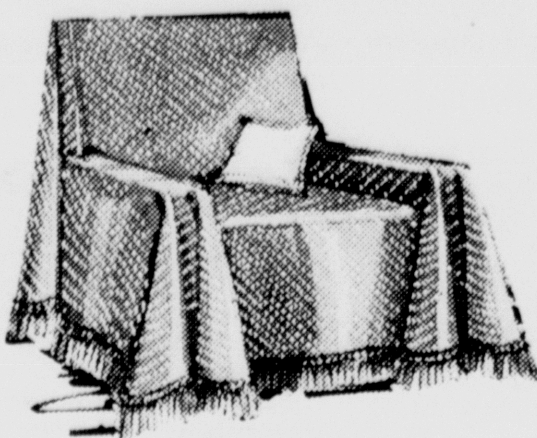

Nuclear disarmament is perhaps the most important subject of these Nixon-Brezhnev meetings, and what the two leaders discussed will have a great impact on the outcome of the arms limitations talks between the U.S. and Russia.

The results of these negotiations, as well as the entire Brezhnev visit, promise to have a lasting effect on the warming of relations between the United States and Russia — two great superpowers who must work seriously toward peaceful co-existence in this nuclear age, particularly if we are to have a "generation of peace" in the years ahead.

Crampton bags Akron golf loot

AKRON, Ohio (AP) —Bruce Crampton is looking for a million dollars. It's just a matter of time before the Australian veteran happily embraces that magic figure in career earnings.

"I think I can safely expect to go past the million this year," Crampton chuckled after winning the $32,000 first prize Sunday in the American Golf Classic.

His scrambling 68 in the final round—he missed seven greens and saved par on five of them—nailed down his fourth victory of the season and pushed his

McMullen's torrid stick ignites LA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In case you were wondering, Ken McMullen still works for the Los Angeles Dodgers. And if you don't believe it, just ask the Cincinnati Reds.

McMullen, all but totally absent from the Los Angeles scene this season, appeared out of the deep recesses of the Dodger dugout and destroyed the Reds during the weekend.

The veteran third baseman ripped his second homer in as many days Sunday and drove in three runs in Los Angeles' 5-2 victory over Cincinnati.

San Francisco in the NL West. Steve Garvey also homered for the Dodgers and Al Downing won his sixth game in nine decisions.

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, Houston swept a doubleheader from San Francisco, 7-6 and 8-3, Philadelphia edged Montreal 5-4, New York defeated Pittsburgh 5-2, Chicago shut out St. Louis 2-0 and Atlanta beat San Diego 6-1.

Doug Radar's bases-loaded single in the ninth inning drove in Houston's winning run in the first game against the Giants and then the Astro third baseman contributed a homer and a two-run double to the nightcap victory.

Cesar Cedeño tagged a grand slam in the first game but the Giants wiped out a six-run Houston lead on a pair of three-run homers by Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey before Radar's infield single decided the issue.

In the second game, the Astros snapped a 1-1 tie with two runs in the seventh and then Radar homered in the eighth and added two more RBIs with a double in the four-run ninth.

Philadelphia got solo homers from Tommy Hutton, Bob Boone and Cesar Tovar to defeat Montreal. The Expos made it close on Ken Singleton's three-run homer in the eighth but Billy Wilson saved the victory for Jim Lonborg.

Atlanta's hitters couldn't do much about San Diego's Steve Arlin, managing just one hit off the pitching dentist for seven innings. But Arlin got in trouble with a couple of walks in the eighth and Ralph Garr tagged him for a grand slam home run that helped the Braves beat the Padres.

Arlin was leading 1-0 before Garr's shot turned the game around for Atlanta.

Glenn Beckert's two-run pinch single broke up a scoreless tie and moved the Chicago Cubs past St. Louis. Milt Pappas throttled the Cardinals on just five hits. The Cubs managed just two against Tom Murphy until their winning rally in the eighth.

Disastrous road trip

Record-Herald Sports Editor

Washington C. H.'s Post 25 American Legion baseball team stumbled in the South Central Ohio League pennant chase by dropping both ends of a doubleheader to Chillicothe Post 757 Sunday afternoon at Bolmer Field.

The Post 25 Legionnaires faltered to a lowly 1-4 showing in the SCOL as the hard-hitting Chillicothe Post 757 team posted victories by the scores of 9-5 and 7-4. It was Post 25's second SCOL doubleheader loss.

THE TWIN loss coupled with a 3-1 setback at Cincinnati Bentley Saturday night ruined the weekend for manager Dennis Morris' Washington C. H. team. The loss to the strong Cincinnati Bentley team at Delhi Field Saturday clipped Post 25's two-game win string.

Mental mistakes coupled with fielding miscues proved to be Post 25's downfall in Sunday's outing at Chillicothe as the Fayette Countians out-hit their SCOL rivals in both games.

Randy Rodgers and Randy Reiber, a pair of hurlers who picked up Washington C. H.'s only two victories earlier in the week, ran into ill fortune in Sunday's SCOL twinbill.

The Ross Countians, who raised their SCOL record to 6-1 with the two wins, took advantage of Post 25's fielding lapses and chased Rodgers from the mound in the opening game after scoring nine runs on eight hits.

In the opener, Chillicothe stacked up all nine of its runs before five innings were completed.

Greg Weaver registered the win for Chillicothe in the first game, but needed late help from lefthander Doug Tracy, who slammed the door on a potential Post 25 rally.

CHILLICOTHE zipped to a 3-0 margin in the opening inning of the nightcap and bunched together a run in the fourth and three more in the fifth to climax the win.

Randy Hill, a pint-sized righthander, worked seven innings giving up four runs on seven hits and fanning six Post 25 hitters to gain the victory. Reiber, who tossed a four-hitter his last time out, was roughed up early and left the game after four and one-third innings of work.

Steve Chester, a hard-hitting first baseman, sparked Chillicothe's twinbill sweep with five hits in eight appearances in the two games. A two-run homer by Chester highlighted the second game. Chester, who was behind the plate in the nightcap, knocked in six runs and scored three times.

Jim Echstein, a hefty southpaw who won the final game for Cincinnati Elder in the Ohio Class AAA baseball tournament this spring, restricted Washington C. H. to four hits in Saturday night's game with always-tough Cincinnati Bentley.

Veteran manager Joe Hawk's Bentley team staked Echstein to a 1-9 lead in the third inning, but Post 25

GRANNY CATCHER — Gerry Ryan, a 62-year-old catcher, winds up for a throw for the Swingers in the Ford Women's Slo-pitch softball league at Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Ryan has been playing softball for 40 years and has no intention of quitting.

SCOL increases ticket prices

The South Central Ohio League Board of Control, with league expansion apparently satisfied for the time being with the acceptance of Unioto into the fold, has started to concentrate its efforts on the financial status of the league.

The SCOL board, which governs all league sports activities of the six participating schools, has increased the price of tickets for football and basketball games, effective at the beginning of the 1973-74 season.

BOARD MEMBERS cited the rising costs of athletic equipment as the primary reason for the price hike.

Beginning this football season, student tickets will be priced at $1 at the door. Student tickets were originally 75 cents. Adult tickets, which were originally priced at $1.25, will cost $1.50 at the door.

Schools will be permitted to hold ticket pre-sales at a reduced rate for their home football and basketball games, the board pointed out.

League financing will be discussed at the board's next meeting. The fall, winter and spring sports banquets, plus the league dues paid by each participating school are the sole sources of income for the SCOL.

Jeff continues surge in Babe Ruth chase

Jeffersonville continued its surge in the Fayette County Babe Ruth League Saturday by bopping winless Wilson Chevrolet 16-7 in a rescheduled game at the Jeffersonville diamond.

The win was Jeffersonville's fifth in six outings this summer and kept Jeff in stride with Willis Insurance, which also owns a 5-1 mark.

Asolid 16-hit attack guided Jeffersonville to the win over coach Gary Dunn's Wilson Chevrolet team.

JEFF PRATER sparked the 16-hit attack with a pair of doubles and two singles and knocked in five runs. Richard Gill and Smith winning pitcher Rick Bobbitt all had a double and two singles, while Tyree provided ample backing in the attack with a pair of singles.

Bobbitt hurled the distance for earnings for the year to $204,209.

The 37-year-old veteran of 17 years on the American pro tour became the first foreigner ever to go past $200,000 in a single season and he vaulted past Jack Nicklaus into the No.1 spot on the season's money list.

Further, he pushed his career earnings to $995,652, just $4,348 short of joining Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Lee Trevino as the game's only $1 million winners.

"It's a tremendous feeling," said Crampton, who was flanked by wife Joan and son Jay, "The money and the titles are important of course, but there's a tremendous feeling of personal satisfaction to know that I have competed so successfully over here."

Crampton won by three strokes with a 273 total, seven under par on the 7,180 yard Firestone Country Club course.

Veteran Gay Brewer, Lanny Wadkins and Bob Murphy were next at 276. Murphy closed up with a 67, Wadkins had a 68 and Brewer 71.

Tom Weiskopf and Forrest Fezler, the 23-year-old tour sophomore who had led through the first three rounds, were next at 277. Weiskopf had a 73 and Fezler took a 75.

Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer were in a group at 280, seven strokes back.

Emory Jay victorious in River Downs race

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Breyer's Best and Elmore are favored today in the six furlong, $2,600 featured eighth race at River Downs.

Saturday, favored Emory Jay won the $20,000-added Dayton Handicap by two lengths in 1:46.2-5 over the mile and 1-16th and paid $4.40, $3.80 and $3. Gallant Tube was second, $6.60 and $5.80 and Blaze of Honor was the show horse, $4.60.

Jeffersonville, scattering seven hits and striking out two Wilson Chevrolet hitters.

Jeffersonville, behind the hard-hitting offensive attack, scored at least two runs in five of the six innings it sent batters to the plate. Wilson opened the game with a three-run spurt in the first inning, but Jeff bounced back to stack up a comfortable 10-3 lead after three innings of play.

Randy Gardner absorbed the setback for Wilson Chevrolet, now 0-6 on the summer campaign, working two innings and giving up eight runs in four innings.

Gardner sparked a seven-hit effort for Wilson with a double, while Tom Dean had three singles and Charles Happenny stroked a pair of safeties.

Boston's Dave Cowens in home run contest

CINCINNATI — Dave Cowens, the Most Valuable Player in the National Basketball Association last winter, will try his hand at another sport at Riverfront Stadium Thursday night in the Cincinnati Reds' annual Celebrity Home Run Contest.

Cowens, the Boston Celtics star from Newport, heads a cast of eight professional athletes from other sports who will try their hands at baseball. Each man will get 10 swings in the contest, which gets underway at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, just prior to the Reds' game with San Diego.

The Cincinnati Bengals will be represented by center Bob Johnson, while winger Rick Dudley will be on hand in his Cincinnati Swords hockey uniform. Dr. Jerry Graham, the massive wrestler, will try to get a stranglehold on a baseball bat. The other competitors will be tennis pro

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's some bad feeling between the Cleveland Indians and Milwaukee Brewers and the Kansas City Royals and Texas Rangers, but for feeling bad how about the plight of the Detroit Tigers?

The Indians and Brewers, Royals and Rangers added some extracurricular fisticuffs to their scheduled baseball activities Sunday while the only thing the Tigers added was two more losses, their sixth and seventh in a row.

When the swinging and shouting were done, the red-hot New York Yankees had won a doubleheader from the Tigers 3-2 and 2-1, the Brewers had outslugged the Indians 8-3, the Royals had whipped the Rangers twice 7-4 and 10-6, the Orioles had dropped a 1-0 squeaker to the Boston Red Sox, the Angels had defeated the Twins 3-0 after dropping the opener 5-1 and the Chicago White Sox recovered from a 7-0 drubbing by the Oakland A's to take the nightcap 11-1.

Darrell Porter and Tim Johnson drove in two runs apiece in the fight-marred fifth inning and George Scott homered in the sixth as the Brewers turned back the Indians.

Both benches and bullpens emptied after Milwaukee's Bob Coluccio was thrown out in a collision at the plate and had words with Cleveland catcher John Ellis. When they started for each other, Brewer third baseman Don Money jumped in and started fighting with Ellis.

The melee ended quickly and Ellis and Coluccio were ejected, but several players streamed onto the field again moments later when Milwaukee's Pedro Garcia started for the mound after a pitch from Ray Lamb sailed near his head.

In Kansas City, Ed Kirkpatrick of the Royals was ejected from the second game after engaging in a brief fight

37th Hoosier Futurity heads for high purse

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The 37th annual Hoosier Futurity harness racing program, which paid out more than $66,000 in four races at last year's Indiana State Fair, appears headed for an even higher purse payoff this year.

According to Howard Armstrong of Connerville, secretary-treasurer of the Indiana Trotting and Pacing Horse Association, nominees are up 50 over last year in the 2-year-old colt and filly trotting and pacing divisions.

WHILE THE celebrities may not actually hit many home runs, the Reds are hopeful of collecting a lot of roundtrippers themselves in the big nine-game homestand that begins Thursday night.

After the Padres are here for 8:05 p.m. games on Thursday and Friday, two of the Reds' top rivals are next in line.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are booked for four games, including a 1:15 Sunday doubleheader that is also Banner Day. Cash prizes will be awarded to the top batters on display during an hour-long parade between games. Saturday's twilight game begins at 5:30 and the Reds and Dodgers play again Monday at 8:05.

There will definitely be fireworks on Tuesday, even if not from baseball explosions. A giant fireworks display will follow the July 3 game (8:05) against San Francisco. Wednesday's Fourth of July game will be a rare morning game, with an 11 a.m. starting time. Some lucky fan will win a Ford Pinto from Riverside Ford. The homestand concludes with an 8:05 meeting between the Reds and Giants on Thursday.

Ohio State shoot draws 7,459 persons

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—A tournament record of 7,459 people participated in the five-day 87th annual Ohio State Trapshoot which ended Sunday, officials reported.

And a world's mark was set for the number of targets shot at on one day when shooters took aim Saturday at 360,200 birds.

Ron Peters, tournament director, said the previous record was 359,800 set last year during the Clay Target Championship of America in the Grand American Trapshoot.

The Grand American, also held on the Amateur Trapshooting Association grounds here, is the biggest in the world. The state tournament is the second largest.

The doubles championship Sunday was a family affair.

Fred Bischel, 40, of Gahanna, won the men's title with a 98 and a shootoff victory over Jack Neal of Athens. Cathy Bischel, 15, won the women's title with a score of 90.

Bischel said the title was his biggest since he started shooting in 1968. Cathy started to shoot a year later and this was her top championship.

"I may have started her but actually she's done it on her own", her father said.

Fisticuffs featured in AL

with Texas pitcher Lloyd Allen.

Kirkpatrick went from first to third on Lou Piniella's tworun single in the first inning and tried to score when Piniella was trapped rounding first. Allen covered home plate in the ensuing rundown and when he tagged Kirkpatrick, the KC player swung at him and they exchanged punches with both benches emptying.

Cookie Rojas drove in the winning run in the opener as no-hit Steve Busby notched his first win since May 4. Rookie Frank White singled home the winner in the nightcap as the Royals moved into first place in the West Division by one game over Chicago and Oakland and 1½ over Minnesota and California.

Pinch hitter Winston Llenas lashed a two-run bases-loaded single in the ninth inning following a two-out error by Minnesota second baseman Rod Carew and Vada Pinson added a run-scoring single, pacing the Angels to victory over the Twins in their nightcap. The Twins took the opener as dropped flies by Angel left fielder Richie Scheinblum and first baseman Mike Epstein made three of their five runs unearned.

Revson gains pole position for running of Schaefer 500

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP)—Peter Revson will start in the pole position in Sunday's Schaefer 500. The fact that he's sitting there isn't all that surprising, because he's running for the well-backed Team McLaren.

Jerry Karl drives for one of the unsung independent owners who ply the U.S. Auto Club's championship circuit. His machine is powered by a turbocharged Chevrolet engine.

Some people will tell you he's got two strikes against him before even firing up his stockblocker. He has to match horsepower with the $3,000 Offenhauser and Ford racing plants.

Revson and 26 other drivers are assured of starts in the $400,000 Schaefer—third richest auto race in this country and one of three 500 milers that make up USAC's "triple crown" series. Karl isn't sure of a start yet, but he almost had one in the bag.

Karl and his car, a product of Smoky Yunick and built in the "best damn garage" in Daytona Beach, Fla., had been among the fastest runners during a week of practice at Pocono International Raceway. Off those runs, he figured to start well up in the field.

But a series of problems—some of his own making and others over which he had very little control—kept him from his appointed task.

There was, however, one saving grace. Karl will get another chance in a special qualifying session Wednesday morning to make up for rained-shortened trials.

Revson, a handsome native of New York City who now lives in California, edged Al Unser and Mario Andretti for the pole on Saturday. Unser and Andretti, driving identical Viceroy's Offys built by former Indianapolis winner Parnelli Jones, turned in four-lap speeds of 190.567 and 190.164 m.p.h. to nail the other front row berths.

Every day is Independence Day

at Heinold Hog Markets.

The Heinold Way has provided farmers freedom in marketing for 23 years.

Freedom to pick any day—any hour—to market hogs at their convenience. Freedom from inefficiency in marketing. Freedom from excessive shrink that contributed to high costs of marketing a long distance from the farm. Freedom to use the farm's truck or pickup to market five or 50 hogs, or hire a semi-trailer to deliver 150. Freedom from paying commissions, yardage, or auction charges. Freedom to sell all weights and all kinds of hogs—boars, sows, out-hogs—at one market.

The Heinold Way made it possible for hog producers to pick up their phone and establish a price for their hogs, before they ever loaded them up. Farmers became free not to commit hogs to market until satisfied with the price. At Heinold, the check is written immediately on arrival weights. Farmers have the use of their money right now!

That's why it's Independence Day every day for hog producers at Heinold! For market information, call

Here is a sample of exceptionally find defense. The hand occurred in the 1965 trials.

South got to three hearts and West led a spade, the jack losing to the ace. East returned a diamond, South taking the ace and returning a spade towards the queen.

West went up with the kind and returned a low diamond, the queen forcing the king.

Declarer played a trump to the jack and discarded the ten of diamonds on the queen of spades to produce this position:

Declarer now lead the nine of clubs to the queen and West made the first of a remarkable series of plays by following suit with the deuce. South lead another club and, when West again played low, finessed the ten, since he thought East had the ace and hoped West had the jack.

But East took the jack and made an excellent cooperative return of a trump, which South won with the ten. Declarer then led a club to the lone king, and for the third successive time West played low!

East ruffed, led another trump, and — since declarer still had a club to lose — he went down one. West finally scored his ace of clubs at trick thirteen.

RH Factor's Dangers Reduced

Can you explain the RH factor simply? I have never gotten anything but a confusing explanation.

Mrs. E. E., Tex.

Dear Mrs. E.:

Many young married couples are similarly confused when they are told that an RH problem exists in that blood.

Fortunately, many new and remarkable advances have been made in the study of hematology (diseases of the blood) that now reduce the hazards associated with this problem.

RH disorders are recognized early in the pregnancy, and plans can be made to remove most of the dangers to the newborn child.

The blood of most people is classified as "RH positive." Relatively few people are "RH negative."

When both the wife and the husband are RH positive, or when they are both RH negative, the baby will not be affected at birth.

If the wife is RH positive, and the husband is RH negative, the baby will not be affected at birth.

It is only in those relatively rare instances when the wife is RH negative and the husband is RH positive that close observation throughout pregnancy becomes important.

In such a situation, if the baby growing in the uterus happens to inherit the father's RH positive factor, a complex interchange takes place between the mother and the baby.

When this occurs, special antibodies are produced in this interchange that may be responsible for anemia and jaundice in the newborn baby.

It is interesting to know that a first-born child is rarely an "RH baby."

even when the mother is RH negative and the father is RH positive. It is only in subsequent pregnancies that the possibility of an RH problem may arise.

There are now ways by which the mother and the child can be protected from the complications formerly associated with RH factor pregnancies.

Young married couples with RH incompatibility can derive great comfort from the medical strides made to overcome this problem.

I have a constant clicking in my ear when I chew on something hard.

My hearing is good, but I am concerned that eventually it may be affected by it.

Miss R. O., Wis.

Dear Miss O.:

The sound you describe is probably due to some problem in your jaw joint.

Almost always, this can be traced to some malocclusion, or interference, with proper bite.

There is virtually no possibility that your hearing will be affected by this condition.

It is important that the bite be changed and readjusted by your dentist so that chronic changes in the jaw joint will be prevented.

When jaw joint conditions are overlooked or neglected, erosion of the bone and the cartilage can occur. Then the problem becomes difficult to reverse.

There are now many dentists who specialize in the problems of the temporomandibular joint (jaw joint).

Brilliant advances made in this area can readily correct the problem.

Greenfield man critically hurt; officers hunting hitskip driver

A 50-year-old Greenfield man, victim of a hitskip accident on Highland Avenue early Sunday, was reported in critical condition in Mount Carmel Hospital, Columbus, Monday morning.

Sheriff's deputies identified the victim as Robert L. Lykins. He suffered multiple rib injuries and lacerations of the head. He is in the intensive care unit of the hospital.

Sheriff's deputies said Lykins was struck from behind as he walked southbound on Highland Avenue at the city corporation line about 3:24 a.m. He was walking with the traffic at the time.

Lykins was found lying face down in the southbound lane approximately 48 feet from where he was struck. His left shoe was discovered in the left ditch 85 feet from where he was lying and his right shoe was found in the right ditch about 50 feet away.

Lykins was brought to Memorial Hospital by ambulance then transferred on to Mount Carmel.

Officers are still searching for the vehicle which struck the victim.

TWO DRIVERS were cited in eight other mishaps investigated in the city-county area over the weekend by local law enforcement agencies.

Eric M. Chester, 21, Jeffersonville, was charged with reckless operation following a crash on Ohio 41-N at 5:05 a.m. Monday involving two parked cars.

Sheriff's deputies said Chester's northbound car had traveled off the left side of the roadway and collided with the rear of a parked car owned by Colin P. Campbell, Rt. 4. The crash forced Campbell's car into another parked car owned by D.I. Peterson Trust Co., of Baltimore, Md.

Officers said Chester then drove away from the scene but was later apprehended in Jeffersonville. Damage in the crash was extensive.

Other mishaps investigated were:

Police apprehend man, 22, in juvenile beer incident

A 22-year-old Greenfield man was arrested by city police early Sunday and charged with furnishing intoxicating liquor to a minor.

David L. Losey, 22, Greenfield, presently is lodged in the city jail awaiting a Municipal Court appearance Monday afternoon. A 17-year-old juvenile to whom Losey allegedly supplied the liquor, was charged with delinquency by drinking an alcoholic beverage and later released to the custody of his parents.

The two were arrested by Patrolman Larry Hott at 12:29 a.m. when he noticed them dumping what appeared to be trash on the Albers parking lot. Hott said upon checking the car he found Losey and the juvenile inside with several empty beer bottles.

Hott said the youth, driving the car, had thrown away four of the bottles when he approached the car.

Two juvenile girls in a car beside the Losey vehicle were taken into custody for curfew violation and later released.

A BURGLAR forced entry into the Shell Oil Co., bulk plant office, 312 S. Fayette St., and made off with $65 from a desk, Sunday night.

Police said a door on the south side of the building had been forced open to gain entry. The burglar then ransacked the office and removed the money from a desk drawer.

A 17-year-old Dublin youth was arrested on a shoplifting complaint filed by Sea-way employees Saturday afternoon. Sheriff's deputies said the youth allegedly stole a magazine, then fled from store employees as they attempted to stop him at the door.

The youth was later apprehended on the Fairground.

SCOPS group tours Salt Creek drainage basin

Members and friends of the South Central Ohio Preservation Society (SCOPS) spent Sunday afternoon touring the Salt Creek valley. The tour was part of a project initiated by SCOPS to investigate possibilities for damming of tributaries of the lower Scioto River.

The tour left from the lodge at Old Man's Cave in the Hocking Hills and covered most of the 285-square mile area drained by Salt Creek.

Walnut Creek probably will be the next Scioto tributary examined by SCOPS.

SCOPS members, friends and the general public are encouraged to attend the regional meeting of the Ohio Historical Society in Circleville July 28.

Deer Creek beach area still closed

The beach area at Deer Creek State Park will remain closed at least until the latter part of this week, according to Dale Hopkins, park manager.

Hopkins said water at the lake is still "very high", and most of the beach was still awash. He said the date for reopening the beach depends on the weather.

Floodgates at the dam are now open and the water is receding but at a slow rate. Boating is allowed but is "still dangerous", said Hopkins, due to the debris that has washed into the lake.

The beach was closed last Thursday.

State legislators may vote selves big pay increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio lawmakers may include a $3,000 to $3,500 pay raise for themselves when a salary bill for state elected officials and judges comes up for a committee vote Tuesday.

The Senate Ways and Means Committee is voting on the measure and Chairman Michael R. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, said Democratic leaders told him they won't support the bill unless legislators are included.

Maloney said he expects amendments to the bill raising pay for state legislators from $14,000 to either $17,000 or $17,500.

The General Assembly voted last year to increase its salary to $14,000 from the previous $12,500, but Maloney said the current salary, without expenses, "is just not sufficient."

The pay bill would boost the governor's salary from $40,000 to $50,000.

Also proposed are $40,000 salaries for the state auditor, state treasurer and the state attorney general, all now paid $25,000.

The lieutenant governor, now paid

$17,000, would get $25,000 under the subcommittee version.

The bill also included across the board raises for judges, starting with an increase for the chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court to $42,000 from his present $32,000.

Unless the Ohio Constitution is changed, the legislative hikes will not go into effect until 1974 and 1976. Public officials cannot get pay raises until they are elected and it takes two elections for all House and Senate members to be elected.

Other judicial salary recommendations of the subcommittee are: —Justices of the Supreme Court, now at $30,000, raised to $38,000.

—Appellate judges, now at $28,000 raised to $35,000.

—Common Pleas Judges, now paid $14,000 to $26,000 depending on population in their district, would go to a range of $23,000 to $33,000.

—Municipal judges, now limited to a maximum of $23,000 in the largest counties, would be able to go to $28,000.

—County court judges would get a raise of about $1,400.

High Court nixes parochial credits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today rejected tax deductions and tuition reimbursement for parents of nonpublic school students in the latest round of a continuing legal battle over state aid to private and parochial education.

The court invalidated a tax deduction program from New York and a tuition reimbursement scheme from Pennsylvania—two programs proponents had hoped would avoid the condemnation of the First Amendment's prohibitions of establishment of religion.

President Nixon has promised a federal tax credit for parents of children attending nonpublic schools, but action has been stalled pending a ruling on the issue.

While the court has condemned other tuition reimbursement programs, today's decision marked its first pronouncement on tax breaks for non-public school attendance.

Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr., writing for the majority, noted that the court has approved exemptions for religion from such things as property taxes. And he noted that these have a long history.

But, he said, special tax benefits for New York parents "cannot be squared with the principle of neutrality established by the decision of this court."

The court also invalidated New York laws providing funds for parochial schools in densely populated areas for heat, lights, custodial services and the like, and a program of direct payments to low-income families who send their children to nonpublic schools.

Believes Nixon involved in Watergate

Dean opens 'marathon week'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III testified today he believes President Nixon was involved in the Watergate affair but did not realize its implications.

Dean told the Senate Watergate committee he hopes "the President is forgiven" when all the facts are known.

The ousted White House counsel, who is expected to testify that Nixon knew about the Watergate coverup, released the first portion of a lengthy opening statement to newsmen in advance of his appearance today before the Senate Watergate committee.

However, Dean did not immediately issue the portion of his statement dealing with his personal conversations with the President last Sept. 15 and earlier this year. This testimony he saved to deliver in person.

Dean's advance remarks did, however, deal with his reaction to Nixon's statement last Aug. 29, when Nixon said Dean had conducted an investigation of the Watergate wiretapping that cleared everyone employed in the administration at that time.

"I had no advance knowledge that the President was going to indicate that I had investigated the matter," Dean said.

"I first learned of the matter when I heard it on a television news broadcast that evening...."

"Had I been consulted in advance by the President, I would have strongly opposed the issuing of such a statement...."

Dean said he knew at the time that Gordon Strachan, an aide to presidential chief of staff H.R. Haldeman, had brought information relating to wiretapped conversations into the White House.

Dean said Strachan had destroyed incriminating documents at Haldeman's direction.

Also, Dean said, he hadn't been able at that time to tell whether or not Haldeman knew about the wiretapping in advance.

And Dean said he had suspected that presidential counselor Charles W. Colson was "far more knowledgeable than he protested."

"Colson protested too much," Dean said.

Dean also said:

—White House aide John Caulfield told him he had tapped a newsmen's telephone, possibly that of columnist Joseph Kraft, on orders of Ehrlichman.

—Haldeman had authorized "any means, legal or illegal," to keep demonstrators out of sight of Nixon on trips and public appearances.

—While he worked at the Justice Department he was used as a courier to deliver to the White House FBI information on foreign travels of Mary Jo Kopechne, the secretary killed when Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's automobile ran off a bridge at Chappaquiddick, Mass., in July 1969.

—Caulfield told him that within hours of the Chappaquiddick accident Anthony Ulasevic, a private investigator employed secretly by Ehrlichman, was on the scene investigating. He said Ulasevic posed as a newsmen and asked the most embarrassing questions at news conferences during the aftermath of the incident.

—An aide to Haldeman once said Haldeman ordered 24-hour spying on Kennedy, but this was called off when Caulfield protested it was unwise.

—A top Secret Service official, whom Dean didn't name, brought him intelligence information about Sen. George McGovern in the spring of 1971. Dean said Colson had the information published.

Dean's testimony was scheduled to kick off what is expected to be the Senate Watergate committee's longest and most sensational week of hearings.

Five days have been set aside to hear Dean and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who has been accused of giving final approval to the Watergate wiretapping last year. Mitchell is expected to follow Dean in the witness chair later this week.

Dean has not denied that he was at the center of a plot to cover up the wiretapping scandal, as alleged by federal prosecutors. And he reportedly has admitted, during a private session

New Orleans blaze claims 29

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Most of the 29 persons killed when fire flashed through a second-story cocktail lounge in the French Quarter here were trapped by burglar bars on three front windows, authorities said today.

Fifteen others were injured in the fire at The Up Stairs Lounge, which was packed for the weekly Sunday night beer bust featuring all you could eat and drink for $2.

A survivor said he believed somebody dashed an inflammable liquid on the stairway to the lounge and lit it.

Fire Supt. William McCrossen said homicide investigators and the state fire marshal would take a careful look at reports that "some people smelled gasoline just before the fire."

However, he cautioned, such reports were unconfirmed.

Some small persons managed to escape by squeezing through the burglar bars on the lounge's front windows and then leaping to the street.

Others left the building by smashing a side window and climbed onto a fire escape. A few made their way to another fire escape in the rear.

The bodies of those who did not make it lay jammed like logs against the front windows, with four huddled under a charred grand piano.

Some of the injured apparently were hurt in jumping to the street.

Authorities said there was only one woman among the dead.

Fire headquarters is but three blocks away. Units were on the scene in two minutes, said Supt. William McCrossen. The fire was out 16 minutes later.

Adolph Medina, 32, of San Antonio, Tex., said flames engulfed the bar in a short, panicked moment after fire broke out on the front stairway.

He said, "I was panicked about jumping, but two guys urged me to jump and I was small enough.... Some big guy on the ground caught me, and I kept looking back but my friend never got out."

Summit holds prospects for thaw

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon says his week-long meeting with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev holds the promise of "peace for all the people of the world."

Brezhnev agreed, saying on Sunday that the summit with Nixon means "political detente is being backed up by military detente."

At the summit's formal end Sunday, the two leaders signed a communique during a televised ceremony outside Nixon's oceanside home here. That summary of the talks is to be released today when Brezhnev leaves the United States.

Nixon loaned Brezhnev his jetliner to fly to Camp David, Md., for an overnight stay before the Soviet Communist party chairman's departure today for Moscow via Paris. Nixon bade him farewell at nearby El Toro Marine Air Station.

Before leaving California, Brezhnev taped a television-radio speech to the American people that was broadcast Sunday evening as he flew east. In the address, also for broadcast in the Soviet Union and other countries, he said his talks with Nixon "really put Soviet-American relations on a new track."

At the signing of the communique, an ebullient Brezhnev said the 40-plus hours of dialogue might lead to another Nixon visit to Moscow "in six or eight months' time." The President's previous visit was in the spring of 1972.

Both Nixon and the Soviet leader pointed to two major summit agreements: a nonbinding accord aimed at avoiding nuclear war and a statement of principles designed to give new impetus to stalled strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) in Geneva.

Brezhnev was asked if talk of a Nixon return trip to Moscow next winter indicated a feeling that a new SALT pact could be completed by that time.

"We are working in this direction. But concretely, unfortunately, I cannot tell you anything for the time being," Brezhnev said.

Nine agreements were announced during Brezhnev's visits to Washington, Camp David and San Clemente. Left for the future were new curbs on offensive arms and the resumption of trade issues stymied by congressional opposition to granting most favored nation treatment to the Soviet Union.

Neither Brezhnev nor Nixon seemed unduly disturbed about the unfinished business, however, as both men placed heavy emphasis on summit accomplishments.

In his 48-minute television-radio address, Brezhnev rejected the "poisoned relations" of the cold war. "Mankind has outgrown the rigid Cold War armor which it was once forced to wear. It wants to breathe freely and peacefully," he said.

Saying he was "satisfied with the way the talks went," Brezhnev added: "Even if our second meeting with the President yielded no other results, it could still be said with full grounds that it will take a fitting place in the annals of American-Soviet relations and in international affairs as a whole."

Before Nixon and Brezhnev boarded a helicopter for the short hop to El Toro, the Soviet leader had an animated chat with the three Skylab 1 astronauts — Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P.

Roger believes 'cold war' detente has citizen support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers agrees with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev that the "cold war" is about over, and he believes Americans approve of the thaw.

"There is every reason to think the American people support what President Nixon and Mr. Brezhnev have done," Rogers said in an interview while flying here with the visiting Soviet leader from the Western White House.

Brezhnev, in a nationwide radio-television address Sunday night, declared his week-long summit talks with Nixon "really put Soviet-American relations on a new track."

"That's the way I assess it, too," Rogers said. He added that he expects a softening in Soviet rhetoric.

"In all fairness it should be said that in the past the offensive language has not been one-sided," Rogers said.

"Obviously we will have differences—continue to have public differences—but the rhetoric will be very different than during the 'cold war'."

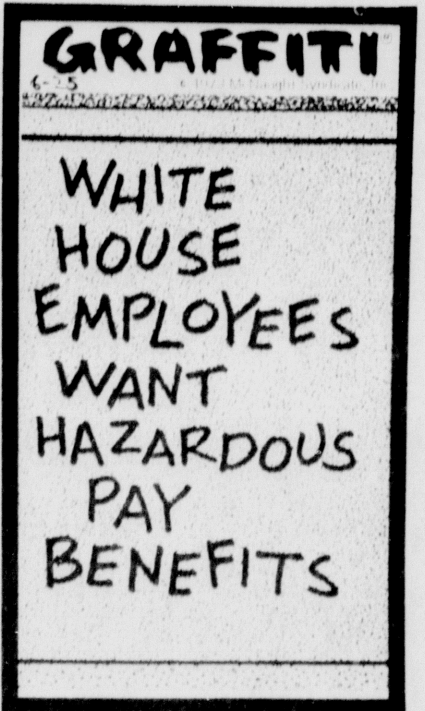

Rogers hailed the agreement signed by Nixon and Brezhnev promising joint cooperation to avert the risk of war or nuclear disaster.

"It's a solemn commitment not to use force or the threat of force versus each other, versus an ally of the other, or against any other country," he said. "It also carries considerably further" the declaration of principles signed last year by Nixon and Brezhnev in Moscow to regularize the conduct of their two nations.

Rogers stressed that the new agreement requires "urgent consultation" between Washington and Moscow even when conventional war anywhere in the world appears imminent.

The secretary of state said he was "quite satisfied" with the range of subjects discussed by the two leaders and that he believed the summit talks accomplished more than had been anticipated.

Find OSU senior shot to death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 21-year-old Ohio State University senior was found shot to death early today in an allnight Columbus grocery store where he worked.

Police said Timothy Gordon was shot at least once in the chest and once in the left leg.

The News In Brief

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — The new Miss Ohio, Cheryl Yourkvitch of Lorain, will use her $1,150 scholarship prize to enroll in Lorain County Community College.

Miss Yourkvitch, 21, won the title Saturday night in Sandusky and will represent the state in the Miss America beauty pageant in Atlantic City in September.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ruled that federal and state governments can continue barring employees from engaging in partisan political campaigns.

The court reversed a ruling by a three-judge federal panel that struck down the 1939 Federal Hatch Act. And in a companion decision, the court upheld a lower court ruling that an Oklahoma state law barring state employees from engaging in partisan political activities was constitutional.

LONDON (AP) — The dollar steadied in Europe today, recovering from a record low in Frankfurt. Gold weakened.

Trading was quiet, and dealers said markets appeared to be awaiting developments.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Youth Commission has launched an investigation of complaints of abuse at its boys' school near Cleveland, an official said today.

Commission spokesman Clifford T. Quinn said the probe is the result of complaints from several former OYC employees about the Cuyahoga Hills Boys School at Warrensville Township.

Eggs at $1 a dozen and leaner days at supermarket meat and poultry counters are being forecast by some industry spokesmen. They say farmers across the country are caught in the middle between the 60-day freeze on retail food prices and a free-floating feed grain market.

"The poultry producer is in the unworkable position of having to pay out more than he receives," Abit Massey, director of the Georgia Poultry Association, said Sunday. "They are just hoping something will be done before the 60-day limitation of the price freeze. They can't last that long."

Bruce Hettle of the Poultrymen's Cooperative Association in California

predicted laying hens would be sold as stew meat. "That will mean fewer eggs and we could end up with a black market situation" and eggs as high as $1 a dozen, he said.

The Cost of Living Council said Saturday it is investigating whether the administration's 60-day price freeze, announced June 13, is causing food shortages. The Senate Agriculture Committee said last week the price freeze is threatening "drastic shortages" of some foods.

Government officials were not immediately available for comment on the feed grain price situation.

Some east Texas farmers have drowned hundreds of thousands of chickens. While no other food-producers in the South and West have yet taken such drastic action, many are cutting back on output. They cite losses of 4 cents per dozen on eggs and up to 6 cents per pound on broilers because of skyrocketing feed prices.

One poultryman said soybean feed that cost $92.50 per ton last fall is in the $400 range now.

Feed mills — which buy the raw grain on the unfrozen market and must sell most of their processed product at frozen prices — are faring little better. Spokesmen for the Los Angeles Grain Exchange estimated mills were losing $6 for every ton of processed feed sold. Mills that were paying $3.41 per bushel for soybeans in May 1972 paid $8.50 this May. Corn jumped from $1.41 to $1.75 per bushel between March and May.

Food industry spokesmen said the cutbacks in flocks and herds could show up at the supermarket in eight to 10 weeks. Most agreed shortages and higher prices would depend on government action and the grain export situation.

While some producers of broiler chickens and laying hens were cutting back flocks by as much as 40 per cent, livestock growers were said to be selling hogs and cows normally used as breeders as a method of thinning herds.

Leo Johnson of the California Cattlemen's Association said prices for grain "have just gone completely out of sight." But he noted that the real crunch in the supply of livestock would come later when the animals enter feedlots, since feed on the range is plentiful this year.

Mission commander Conrad said he and his crewmates left the orbiting space station in good shape for Skylab 2, a 56-day flight that is to start July 27 under the command of Alan L. Bean. "I'm glad to turn it over to Capt. Bean and his crew," said Conrad. "As far as I'm concerned, he's go for 56 days."

Space agency doctors reported that they see no medical barrier to the eight-week journey of Skylab 2, despite some early postflight dizziness that bothered Conrad, Kerwin and Weitz.

Irish Republic installs president

DUBLIN (AP) — The Irish Republic installs an Englishborn Protestant as its fourth president today amid a marked display of religious conciliation.

Erskine Childers, 68, is the second Protestant to hold the presidency of this overwhelmingly Roman Catholic nation but is the first to have won it by election. Dr. Douglas Hyde, the Protestant scholar who was the first president under the 1937 constitution, was appointed unopposed.

While Protestant and Roman Catholics fight in Northern Ireland, leaders of both faiths were to participate in Childers' inauguration.

The ceremony was to take place in Dublin Castle, once the symbol of British rule in Ireland. It was to be preceded by an interdenominational service at St. Patrick's Cathedral led by Dr. George Simms, archbishop of Armagh and primate of the Protestant Church of Ireland.

Archbishop Simms was to be joined by William Cardinal Conway, Roman Catholic primate of Dublin. Presbyterians, Methodists, Lutherans and Quakers also were to participate. Childers, a former deputy prime minister, was the candidate of the opposition Fianna Fail party in last month's presidential election. He defeated Tom O'Higgins, candidate of the governing National Coalition.

Childers has promised to promote reconciliation with Northern Ireland, where the Protestant majority is intent on keeping its links with Britain.

He has suggested calling an all-Ireland conference to seek steps toward national unity. Whether the idea gets off the ground depends largely on the outcome of this week's elections in Ulster to choose a new provincial assembly.

The new first lady, Mrs. Rita Childers, is a Roman Catholic and a former press attache at the British Embassy in Dublin.

Outgoing President Eamon De Valera, 90 and almost totally blind, left office Sunday at the close of his second seven-year term. He and his 95-year-old wife, Sinead, plan to live out their days in a retirement home run by the Sisters of Charity in south Dublin.

Childers said he had never hidden the fact that he supported McGovern or opposed Nixon's policies on dealing with crime but, he added, "I was not particularly close to Sen. McGovern. I guess I saw him once or twice during the whole campaign."

He said he did not intend to stay at the prosecutors office beyond Labor Day.

McGovern aide now prosecutor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top lawyer in the office of the special Watergate prosecutor once headed a task force on crime for Democratic candidate George McGovern.

James Vorenberg said in an interview that his role as a McGovern adviser was a very limited one. He said he wrote one McGovern speech on crime and held two press conferences on the issue.

During the 1972 presidential campaign, Vorenberg took strong issue with Republican claims that crime had been reduced during Nixon's first term.

At a Washington news conference in mid-October, Vorenberg challenged then Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst to debate the crime issue.

"Richard Nixon and his associates in the Justice Department have had the audacity to try to persuade the American people that the crime problem is being brought under control," Vorenberg said.

He said in an interview last week that he had expressed such views repeatedly before he joined the McGovern campaign. He also said that he knew relatively little about the Watergate case during the campaign and never had a role in any of McGovern's statements on it.

A professor at Harvard Law School and former executive director of the presidential crime commission that reported in 1967, Vorenberg is a nationally recognized authority on law enforcement.

He was one of the first lawyers recruited by Archibald Cox, the special Watergate prosecutor. Vorenberg joined Cox for a short-term assignment in helping organize the rapidly growing staff of attorneys and investigators.

"I can imagine someone saying it would be inappropriate for someone who was McGovern's adviser on criminal justice to have a continuing role," Vorenberg said of his current job. "The problem is, it will be hard to build up a staff of people who are kind of political neutrals."

Cox, a Democrat who was U.S. Solicitor General in the Kennedy administration, has emphasized his office's independence of the Nixon administration.

Vorenberg said he has never hidden

Opinion And Comment

Unsanitary packing plants

Nearly 70 years after Upton Sinclair's "The Jungle" shocked the public with its expose of packing plant conditions, the jungle has not yet vanished from the American scene.

A random survey by the Agriculture Department's internal policing agency found unsavory conditions in more than 40 per cent of the meat plants checked. Eleven out of 38 were described as "unacceptable."

This report by the Department's Office of the Inspector General does speak of "considerable progress" in the inspection system. But it is evident from the following passage that there is still much room for improvement: "Many problems persisted, though audits and investigations had repeatedly reported these conditions over a six-year period."

The report says inspectors are inadequately trained, and speaks of many shortcomings among them: laxity, confusion, low morale, and in some cases misconduct.

Some of the conditions which go uncorrected because of ineffective plant inspection and enforcement are, to say the least, unappetizing. Some are clearly threats to consumer health. This is all the more intolerable since, as we are told, such conditions have been reported over the past six years.

One key to the problem is that reports periodically made by the Office of the Inspector General are not as a general rule made public. We are indebted to Rep. John Melcher of Montana for disclosure of the current report — which is current only in the sense that it is the latest one; it was made late last year.

If Agriculture Department officials are serious about wanting to clean house in meat packing plants, they should promptly release such reports.

Public disgust with conditions such as those just revealed would be the best guarantee of public support for corrective action.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

The leaden feet of the AEC

Wherever you look, government itself is to blame for the energy crisis.

The development of the natural gas industry has all along been stunted by government price-fixing that discourages investors. We have 250 years of coal reserves in this country, but the ecologists, with government backing, have dampened the exploitation of our most plentiful fuel in spite of the evidence that strip mine acreage can be restored to forest land, golf courses or pasture.

As for oil, the political shackles imposed on the companies waiting to bring Alaska North Slope wells into production are becoming a national scandal.

The worst count against the government is its failure to make realistic plans for the enlargement of the atomic-energy industry.

We have had an Atomic Energy Commission that has permitted the building of 29 nuclear plants. These generate less than 5 per cent of the country's total power capacity. Prodded by the ecologists, and fearful of litigation, the AEC has been properly sensitive to the dangers that would ensue if there were radiation leakages in densely populated areas.

Even so, the AEC has not done any balanced planning for a future in which the nation will be compelled to rely on atomic power as its reserves of oil and gas dwindle.

ACCORDING to the AEC's own predictions, our nuclear plant capacity will have increased by a factor of 30 within 20 years. The AEC is prepared to sanction the construction of new plants, possibly putting them underground to meet the safety requirements suggested by Dr. Edward Teller. But no plans have been made for an expansion in the nation's uranium enrichment facilities that will be necessary to supply the fuel for the new plants.

The grim story is told in an article written by Vincent Abajian and Alan Fishman for August publication in a technical journal, Physics Today. Mr. Abajian is chairman of the board of Electro-Nucleonics, a company that has pioneered the development of gas centrifuge processes that offer cheaper ways of getting enriched uranium than any now in use in the United States. Mrs. Fishman is his assistant.

Their article is not critical of the AEC, but when one reads that an Austrian scientist, Gerhot Zippe, has provided workable gas centrifuge technology for a British-Dutch-West German consortium while the AEC has been sitting on its hands in the U.S., one can only shake one's head.

A British gas centrifuge plant is now being built to replace older and more expensive gaseous diffusion methods of getting enriched atomic fuel. A number of so-called cascades, each with several hundred centrifuges, will probably be installed this summer, and by the fall of 1974 the British-Dutch-West German consortium should have three pilot plants in full operation.

While the foreigner has been moving ahead, the AEC has depended for atomic fuel on three costly government-owned facilities built a couple of decades ago at a cost of $2 billion. The nuclear power industry's needs for enriched fuel will shortly outstrip the combined capacity of the old plants, and by the early 1980s it may be too late to head off a severe shortage.

The question, according to Abajian and Fishman, is whether enough time remains to plan and construct new high-speed centrifuges to enrich uranium at prices that will be competitive with those that the West European consortium and a Japanese group, the Power Reactor and Nuclear Fuel Development Corp., will be charging.

The urgency of permitting private industry to build high-speed centrifuges in the U.S. is increased by "the possibility that foreign competitors might move to take over a large share of the enrichment business" that has long been a monopoly of the AEC itself.

RACING TO CATCH UP, the AEC is now constructing a pilot plant to demonstrate the gas-centrifuge process.

It will be ready by 1975, and will have a capacity greater than that of the Dutch centrifuge plant at Almelo in the Netherlands, the first of the continental European plants to go into operation.

But the question remains: why did the AEC dawdle so long before giving private industry the proper assurances that it could build centrifuge plants and make a sufficient profit on the deal to go ahead with raising the necessary capital investment?

The AEC is now permitting industrial firms to engage in development work, and the secrecy lid is off to a considerable extent. But if the British, the Dutch and the West German had not forced the pace, we might still be keeping the needed know-how under lock and key while the country continues to exhaust its oil reserves.

There is a movement afoot in Washington to give the Atomic Energy Commission responsibility for the development of every sort of energy, from the extraction of oil from oil shale to experimentation with solar energy and the gasification of coal.

In case of a change of this nature, the world "atomic" would necessarily be dropped. Heaven help us if the change were unaccompanied by a new outlook on energy needs that would get rid of the super-caution that has been killing us.

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is so confining. One never gets to do a tenth of the oddball things that occur to his mind.

Walking the treadmill of the daily glory keeps us so busy that the years and our lives slip away, and before we are ready for it we face the Great Confrontation that stills our dreams and footsteps forever. Even if we lived to be three hundred years old, most of us would never find time to —

Dear Abby:

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Neither sensible nor cheap -- just insensitive

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged woman who is presently dating a man a few years older than I am. He is loaded with money and takes me to all the finest places. He has a fine automobile, dresses expensively and beautifully, and is very good-looking. He sounds perfect, doesn't he? Well, he would be, except for one fault. He HATES to tip. And I mean he absolutely will not tip anyone a dime for anything unless that person has performed a special service other than what he is being paid to do.

For example: We will go to a restaurant and if this gentleman thinks the food is exceptionally good he will send a $5 bill to the COOK. (He says: "Why tip the waiter? He just serves it. The cook deserves the tip.") He will tip the waiter only if the waiter gives him extra special service.

Doormen get nothing. ("I can open the door myself," he says.) Captains get nothing. ("He's supposed to show us to our table.") Parking attendants get nothing.

This man claims he is not cheap-just sensible. Do you think he's "sensible" or cheap?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Any man who tips the cook for excellence cannot be considered "cheap." (Too few even think of it.) However, he should realize that many people who perform services depend upon their tips for their bread and butter. I know it shouldn't be that way, but, unfortunately, that's the way it is.

DEAR ABBY: I am 5 foot 7 (stocking feet), 20 years old and am told I have a very beautiful face and figure. My boy friend, who I am beginning to love dearly, is 5 foot 6. David is very handsome, but on the stocky side.

I find that the difference in our height bothers me. I am very uncomfortable when he and I are out together, and I keep hoping we won't run into people we know. When we do, I imagine they are thinking: "My goodness, SHE is taller than HE is!" I realize that a man's height shouldn't be all that important, but I am torn apart worrying about what people think and say about it.

I'm beginning to think it won't work out between David and me. I'm so afraid if I marry him I will always think maybe I should have waited for a taller man.

DEAR TORN: If the one-inch difference in height is such a serious source of concern to you now, you'd be wise to look for a taller fellow. You say a man's height shouldn't be THAT important, but face it, to you it IS!

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago I foolishly shoplifted a small item from a department store. I was caught, arrested, and prosecuted. Now my name is permanently engraved in the police files. Soon I will be looking for a new job, which brings me to my problem. On every job application is the question: "Do you have a police record?" Or: "Have you ever been arrested?" I am not a criminal, and I feel that I have learned my lesson. I don't want to lie, but I don't want to spoil my chances for getting a job.

Should I say "No" to the question? The item I took was worth less than $5, which the store got back anyway, and for which I paid many times over in many ways. Must I pay for this mistake for the rest of my life? If I say "No," could a prospective employer press charges against me for falsifying an application?

Please help Abby. Perhaps your answer could help other people in the same predicament.

SORRY

DEAR SORRY: Don't compound your problem by adding yet another offense to it. Tell the truth, and accept the consequences.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
TUESDAY, JUNE 26
ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
You may encounter opposition in most unlikely areas. Try to find reasons, and aim to straighten things out — but amicably.
TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
Aspects now stimulate your creative abilities and your imagination, but don't let the latter run "wild." Maintain a down-to-earth attitude even as your ambitions soar.
GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
A certain amount of daring could prove profitable now but, as with the Taurus, don't let your imagination run out of bounds. Stress your innate foresight.
CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Some astute checking could save you time, prevent wasted energy and costly errors. Don't divert efforts into unconstructive channels.
LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
The Leoite likes room for action, new projects, the means to improve unfavorable conditions. This day provides the opportunity for all of these. There's much you can accomplish.
VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Even though some outside interests may seem more stimulating, stick to obligations, the fundamentals on which to build a better future. Be realistic.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Without realizing it, you may be a victim of your own fears and misgivings. Pull yourself together. This is a day which calls for clear thought, definitive action — AND self-confidence.
SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Make time count. Whether handling large or small matters, don't let nonessentials get in the way of steady progress. Personal relationships highly favored.
SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
In both business and financial matters, use only time-tested procedures. Don't attempt anything risky now. And DON'T try for the unreasonable.
CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
You may have a tendency to be too impressionable now. Avoid becoming involved in ticklish situations into which you could be trapped — and which could cause trouble later.
AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Now you have a chance to display your showmanship; also your gift for being able to come up with a switch in tactics that changes the humdrum into the lively.
PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
Stimulating influences foster inventiveness and creativity generally. An excellent period in which to try out new devices and methods, to capitalize on unique ideas.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with unusual versatility and could succeed in almost any field of your choice but you often lack self-confidence, thus holding yourself back through doubts and fears. Try to curb such apprehension since there is no limit to the successes you can attain once you find your niche and stay stalwartly on the path to achievement. You are more musically gifted and have more sense of drama than many other Cancerians, thus could make a brilliant success in either field. But this artistic bent does not preclude solid attainment in other lines, such as business, finance, mathematics or science. You are an idealist; at times given to too much introspection. Try to stress the outgoing side of your personality.

Don't throw away those large outer leaves of lettuce. Wash and dry them, then shred them fine. Use as a base for salads.

Ohio Perspective

State faces big highway problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans will be driving 64 per cent more miles in the next 20 years—and enjoying it less, reports the Road Information program in Washington D.C.
Included in the pessimistic findings of the federally financed study were:
—Ohio motorists will log 92 billion vehicle miles in 1990, traveling on a state road system only 12 per cent larger than it is now.
—Cars are multiplying twice as fast as people in Ohio. By 1990, about 8.8 million vehicles will roll along Ohio roads, compared with six million now.
—Ohio is spending one-eighth the money on road improvements it needs to meet federal standards.
—An increasing number of Ohio's privately-owned public transit companies are on the brink of bankruptcy, while rush-hour traffic congestion steadily worsens.
Ohio needs to spend about $1.4 billion a year in road improvements, the report said. Currently, it spends about $200 million per year.
Sixty per cent should go for local roads and streets, the report continued, and public transportation systems should be given a top priority.

About a dozen Ohio cities have either taken over local transit operations or formed regional authorities to assume responsibility for public transit.
Such regional authorities are eligible for financial help from demonstration grants and state mass transit aid, the road information report said.
One state, Virginia already is experimenting with an express busway system for commuters to and from Washington D. C.

The busway utilizes a reserve lane in the center of a major interstate highway to bypass nine miles of congested traffic. Bus riders save up to 30 minutes over the average auto commuting time. The number of riders has jumped by nearly 400 per cent in the past three years.
At least five other metropolitan areas have taken Virginia's cue and are now experimenting with their own busways.
Luring commuters out of their cars into buses also saves gasoline—now in critically short supply.

Ohio hospital outlays studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A legislative health care committee wants to take a look at how Ohio's hospitals are spending their money.
State Rep. George Mastics, R-3 Cleveland, chairman of the Legislative Service's Commission on Health Care, said the committee has the authority to inspect books of private hospitals.
The committee, separate from the governor's Health Care Task Force, reconvenes Thursday.

TO ALL PRESENT AND FORMER ANNUAL RATE REGULAR POSTAL EMPLOYEES AND THE REPRESENTATIVES OF DECEASED ANNUAL RATE REGULAR POSTAL EMPLOYEES REGARDING POSSIBLE ENTITLEMENT TO BACK WAGES

This notice is published in conformity with a Consent Order entered August 26, 1971 by the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in settlement of Civil Actions Nos. 3593-69 and 3595-69. Its purpose is to bring this settlement to the attention of all persons who were full-time annual rate regular employees of the United States Postal Service (as used herein the term "Postal Service" includes the former Post Office Department) at any time between approximately March 4, 1966 and January 7, 1972, as well as representatives of such employees who are now deceased. The settlement involves the recovery of back wages for overtime under Public Law 89-301, for temporary re-scheduling under the conditions set forth under paragraph I-A below. This notice is intended to advise such persons of their rights regarding this matter. It should be read carefully.

The lawsuits described above were filed on December 19, 1969 as "class actions" on behalf of all such present and former annual rate regular postal employees. The named plaintiffs in these suits are certain individual postal employees and the following postal labor unions: American Postal Workers Union, AFL-CIO; Mail Handlers Division of the Laborers' International Union, AFL-CIO; and the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL-CIO.

I. SUMMARY OF THE CONSENT ORDER ENTERED IN THE "CLASS ACTIONS"

The Consent Order establishes rules regarding the payment of back wages to those present and former postal employees (or the representatives of deceased postal employees) who were entitled to, but did not receive, time and one-half for work performed outside of their regular schedule as a result of a required temporary schedule change as set forth below. A complete statement of these rules is not set forth in this notice. The following rules represent only the basic conditions which apply to claims. Detailed Operating Instructions and the Consent Order will be available to potential claimants, as indicated in paragraph E below.

A. Qualification for Back Wages under "Class Action" Consent Order

1. For the period from approximately March 4, 1966 to January 7, 1972, annual rate regulars were entitled to overtime wages under Public Law 89-301 for work performed during days or hours outside of their regular schedule as a result of a required temporary schedule change, unless the schedule change occurred while they were occupying any of the following positions: (1) postmaster; (2) rural carrier; (3) postal inspector; (4) road duty employee (as defined in 39 U.S.C. Sec. 3581 (1962)); (5) substitute employee; (6) hourly rate regular employee; (7) annual rate regulars who, between March 4, 1965 and July 29, 1966, were in salary level PFS-8 and above; (8) annual rate regulars who, between July 29, 1966 and October 6, 1967, were in salary level PFS-11 and above; (9) annual rate regulars who, after October 6, 1967, were in salary level PFS-12 and above or equivalent levels.

2. Any temporary schedule change on the part of an annual rate regular which was not made at his request for his convenience is a "required schedule change" for which the employee is entitled to overtime compensation for work performed outside of his regular schedule, without regard to the nature of the work performed under the temporary schedule. Temporary schedule changes made at an employee's request for his convenience are not compensable at the overtime rate.

B. Claims Procedure under "Class Action" Consent Order

1. The Consent Order establishes procedures for the filing of claims by present employees, former employees and the representatives of deceased employees who assert entitlement to overtime back wages under paragraph A above.

2. Claims Procedure for Present Employees

(a) As soon as practical after July 30, 1973, all present employees will be notified by their installation head that their time records are available for examination. In most cases these records date back to the first pay period in which regular work schedules were assigned under Public Law 89-301, and end with the pay period terminating on January 7, 1972.

(b) Each present employee is entitled to be excused from his normal tour of duty for up to one hour to review his time records and will be compensated for that hour at his straight time rate of compensation. In addition, he may remove his records from the installation for the purpose of his review.

(c) Special claim forms will be available in all postal installations. It will be necessary for the employee to indicate on the claim form those hours for which he believes he is entitled to recover overtime back wages.

(d) An employee's failure to file a claim with his installation head within 90 days of receipt of notice that his time records are available for inspection will waive his right to present a claim. However, upon good cause shown, the time for filing a claim shall be extended.

(e) An employee may submit a claim even though his time records are no longer available.

(f) After an employee has submitted his claim, the local installation head will review it to determine whether the claim should be approved for payment. If the claim is denied, the employee will be entitled to appeal.

3. Procedure for Former Employees and the Representatives of Deceased Employees

Essentially, the same rules apply to claims by former employees and representatives of deceased employees, with the following exceptions:

(a) The Postal Service will attempt to notify former annual rate regulars of their rights in this matter by forwarding a copy of this notice to their last known address on file with the United States Civil Service Commission or the appropriate Postal Service Data Center.

(b) Any former employee, or the representative of a deceased employee, who receives this notice from the Postal Service by mail must request access to the employee's time records in writing within 60 days of receiving such notice or waive his right to present a claim.

(c) Any former employee, or the representative of a deceased employee, who does not receive a copy of this notice from the Postal Service by mail must request access to the employee's time records within three years of July 1, 1973, or waive his right to present a claim.

(d) The time records of former employees are located at the post offices and postal installations where these employees worked. Accordingly, a former employee or a representative of a deceased employee may request access to such records (1) by visiting, or writing directly to, the head of each post office or postal installation where the employee was employed, or (2) by asking any local postmaster for assistance in obtaining such records. When making the request, a former employee must identify himself as a former postal employee who is requesting access to his time records under the "Consent Order Procedure," and must state his name, social security number, and the post office(s) or postal installation(s) where he worked. The representative of a deceased employee should follow the same procedure with regard to the deceased employee involved and must also indicate on what basis he or she is acting as the deceased employee's representative.

(e) Upon receiving notice from the Postal Service that the records are available for examination, a former employee or the representative of a deceased employee must submit his claim as provided in paragraphs B2(c)-(f) of this notice.

C. Notification of Determination of Claims

1. The installation head or his designee will notify the claimant in writing of the disposition of his claim within 90 days of the date the claim is filed. Failure to notify the claimant of a determination of the claim within 90 days will constitute automatic approval of the entire claim. If a claim is denied, the decision will state the reason(s) for denial.

2. If, within 30 days of receipt of the written decision regarding the claim, the claimant fails to advise the Postal Service official who signed the decision that he either (1) accepts the decision in full, or (2) rejects the decision in full, he will be deemed to have accepted the decision in full.

3. If the claimant rejects the decision, he may appeal in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Operating Instructions.

4. Employees who remain part of the class and also remain represented by counsel for the named plaintiffs shall be bound by such counsel's decisions regarding the settlement or other disposition of claims.

D. Payment of Claims

When a final decision has been made to pay the claim, the claimant will promptly receive payment from the Postal Service in accordance with the decision.

E. Additional Information

Additional information regarding the contents of this notice may be obtained from Donald M. Murtha, Esquire, counsel for plaintiffs, Department P, Suite 703, 1828 I. Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. A copy of the Consent Order may be obtained by writing to Mr. Clyde Wilson, Claims Administrator, Room 3532, U.S. Postal Service Headquarters, 12th & Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20260. The Operating Instructions and claim forms will be available in postal installations when the claims procedure is implemented.

II. ELECTIONS AVAILABLE TO MEMBERS OF THE CLASS

The Consent Order declares that the named plaintiffs are proper representatives of the entire class of present and former postal employees entitled to recover overtime back wages under Public Law 89-301. Under the Consent Order and Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, members of the class are entitled to be advised that the following elections are available to them:

A. Any person who claims entitlement to overtime back wages under Public Law 89-301, but does not wish to participate in this "class action" litigation will, if he requests exclusion, be excluded by the court from the class action insofar as his individual claim is not within the reach of Rule 23(b)(1) or (2), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Such exclusion must be requested by letter addressed to the undersigned at P.O. Box 978, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, D.C.

20044, postmarked not later than midnight, July 15, 1973. Any person who does not elect to be so excluded will be fully bound by the settlement in this litigation. A person who elects to be so excluded from the class will be free, subject to the adjudication of issues within the reach of Rule 23(b)(1) or (2), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, to pursue whatever individual legal remedies he may have. If he should independently recover back wages under Public Law 89-301, he may nevertheless be required under law to pay attorney fees to the counsel who initiated these "class actions."

B. If a person does not so request exclusion from the class by July 15, 1973, he will automatically be included in the class, and his entitlement will be determined under the Consent Order and any subsequent orders the court may enter in the matter, and he will be bound thereby.

III. FINAL HEARING PRIOR TO THE COURT ENTERING PARTIAL FINAL JUDGMENT

The Consent Order referred to under I above was entered into with a view to effecting the expeditious processing of all the individual claims involved in this class-action litigation. The Court has now preliminarily entered (in accordance with Rule 23(d), Federal Rules of Civil Procedure) a further Order and Decision implementing the Consent Order, which (1) approves the detailed operating instructions under the Consent Order; and (2) determines several legal issues incident to implementation of the Consent Order, as to which parties were unable to reach agreement. (The detailed operating instructions under the Consent Order have now been designated "Back Pay Claims Instructions, etc.") The Court will conduct a Final Hearing on all issues which have been decided by the Court in this litigation, in Courtroom 22, United States Court House, 3d Street and Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. at 10:00 a.m. on July 30, 1973. Any person claiming to be a member of the class who wishes to be heard in this matter by an attorney other than the attorneys who represent the original plaintiffs in this litigation, will be afforded due opportunity to be heard thereat by his attorney, provided his attorney so notifies the undersigned Clerk of Court in writing prior to July 15, 1973.

The Court will upon conclusion of that hearing enter an order effecting partial Final Judgment disposing of all issues which have been decided as of the date of such Final Judgment, subject to the Court, upon being advised by the parties that all aspects of the controversy have been settled, entering the Final Judgment contemplated by the Consent Order, as heretofore amended.

The parties have reached agreement to submit to final and binding arbitration, individual disputes remaining upon conclusion of the U.S. Postal Service's processing and decision as to the individual claims, in lieu of court proceedings thereafter.

The Consent Order and Implementing Order and Decision and the parties' agreement for final and binding arbitration as finally approved by the Court upon conclusion of the indicated Final Hearing will govern the processing of all individual claims, including any arbitration proceedings.

IV. COUNSEL FEES AND EXPENSES

The matter of counsel fees and expenses for services heretofore rendered by counsel bringing this action and of counsel fees and expenses for services which may be rendered hereafter by original or other counsel will be determined by the Court after the date of the Final Hearing.

V. COMMUNICATION WITH COURT TO BE ONLY BY PLEADING OR MOTION

Any person wishing further information about this litigation may communicate with Donald M. Murtha, Esq. counsel for plaintiffs, whose address is set forth under IE above. All communication with the Court shall be by formal pleading or motion, with copies thereof served upon counsel for the parties. PLEASE DO NOT WRITE OR CALL THE COURT.

Evening ceremony unites Miss Edwards, Mr. Jones

The Rev. Don Baker officiated for the marriage of Debra Lynn Edwards and William Francis Jones II, in the First Christian Church. The double-ring service was read June 8 at 7:30 p.m., by candlelight. Two 7-branch candelabra and sets of candles with mint bows, in each window, lighted the scene. A large basket on the altar held yellow and white daisies and white carnations, with baby's breath. The family pews were marked with mint bows and greenery.

Miss Edwards is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edwards, 324 Ely St., and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William F. Jones, 926 Old Chillicothe Rd.

A medley of love songs was played by Miss Elaine Stookey on the church organ, a half hour before the ceremony. Miss Cheryl White accompanied Randy Woods, soloist.

Circle discusses work on banner

The June meeting of Circle 4, First Presbyterian Church was held in the church parlor, with members telling of memorable vacations in answer to roll call.

Mrs. Donald Wood told the group of a volunteer program to assist persons with problems, drug problems, thoughts of suicide and such, and Mrs. Loren Noble read about an area in Japan, needing help. Mrs. Walter Coil led in prayer for the projects assisting such people. Mrs. Richard Maddux, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Herbert Stolsenberg and Mrs. Bill Carson read from the book of Acts in the Bible, while Mrs. Coil, Mrs. Noble, Mrs. James Purcell and Mrs. Leonard Stephenson read from the book of Habakkuk.

Following the usual reports, the group spent the evening discussing the "banner of confession" the Circle is working on and decided to schedule an afternoon of intensive work on it.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Ralph Leeds, Mrs. Purcell and Mrs. Stephenson.

'Dial-a-dress' caters to lazy

LAZY WOMEN helped found a different kind of fashion business in Paris, according to Gabriel Italicci, who makes house calls to women who wish to buy a new dress.

By ALISON LERRICK
PARIS (AP) — "I've got absolutely nothing to wear!"

But why take the trouble to trundle to your neighborhood boutique — or to sigh, "Dior, James" — when you can simply dial-a-dress?

"Women are lazier than you think," says Gabriel Italicci, an ex-Florentine whose name is a clue to his origins and who prefers to be known by his telephone number instead of his address.

He recently opened Anacapri, the lazy woman's little dressmaker, and since then ears haven't stopped ringing.

Contrary to common myth, "women hate to shop," says Italicci, summing up the experience of a decade or two as dress and fabric designer. Anacapri is therefore dedicated to "making beautiful clothes" for the stationary set.

The name for such an ambitious venture he settled on in honor of "Old Capri and because it's easy to remember. No one remembers my name," he says wistfully, "except for a few privileged people."

So, for the price of a dime, Italicci — curly hair, sunglasses and suitcase stuffed with fabric swatches — zooms in on your doorstep. The finished dress, with a fitting or two thrown in for good measure, can be ready in a minimum of 24 hours.

The bill, housecall included: $120 for "a little dress for dinner with close friends" up to $400, if you insist on wads of embroidery.

To speed up matters, he occasionally is bold enough to suggest that customers come to his apartment-atelier on the outskirts of Paris, but the answer is unanimously "no."

Shrugs Italicci as surveyor of two super-bourgeois districts: "In Neuilly they move sometimes, but the people in Passy are the laziest in the world." Willy-nilly, he has become a part-time sociologist, as one of the hazards of his business.

Laziness, however, does not just begin at home.

"I keep getting letters from women in the provinces begging me to dress them by mail," he complains. anacapri is even equipped for export and, to date, foreign clients include two in Amsterdam and one apiece in Brussels and Philadelphia.

When it comes to dressing people long distance, Italicci prefers that women "describe themselves rather than sending their measurements." Helpful hints from shameless women range from "round back" to "pointed bust."

"After all," he says, "it's much more instructive to know if a woman has a round bust than how big it is. My method is rational and serious. It's a question of concentrating on the problem."

Often as not, he handles "problem women." One fat woman, he says with pride, "went to America with suitcases full of my dresses. She especially wanted a dress in crepe de chine and, for her . . . well, it wasn't easy to find."

And, if a woman can't find anything in his collection of 50 dresses, Italicci will design a little nothing exclusively for her, "according to her personality . . . whether it's grim or frivolous." In such extra efforts, he is aided by the opportunity to snoop around his customers' dwelling places.

"I discuss their problems, of course, but more important I see their backgrounds. If you have even the tiniest gift for psychology, this can be very revealing," he confesses. "Since the woman is going to get dressed at home, her clothes might as well go with her apartment."

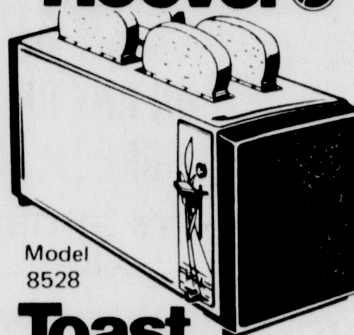

Just the other day, for example, he prevented due to a kind heart and an aesthetic nature — a customer from buying a yellow suit. "I said I can't let you leave here in a yellow suit." And Italicci shudders at the horror of the memory.

"You understand," he adds in confidence, "with her hair, she would have looked hideous. And, knowing her background, she would never have had the time to get suntanned enough to go with a yellow suit."

But, besides keeping pale women away from yellow, Italicci has another more pressing ambition: to open a boutique downstairs.

"There are high-rise apartment buildings all around, and it's much more agreeable to have a boutique next door than to have to walk all the way to the nearest shops," he explains. "That takes at least five minutes."

7 Ohioans are drowned on weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"The Pit" in the Great Miami River claimed four more victims over the weekend, raising the total drowned there in the last five years to 25.

The victims were among seven Ohioans who lost their lives in drowning accidents over the weekend.

"The Pit," according to Whitewater Township Fire Chief James Burns, is at the confluence of the Great Miami and Whitewater rivers in western Hamilton County.

The rivers create a whirlpool in a deep, underwater pit. He said he doesn't expect the pool to give up the bodies before Monday or Tuesday night.

David Roach, 19, of Cincinnati was one of two people who drowned Sunday while firemen were searching for the bodies of two men drowned in the same place Saturday night.

The second victim, of Norwood, was not immediately identified.

Burns said the pool, under the U.S. 50 bridge, normally is marked with signs warning swimmers of the "treacherous" water, but "the signs were carried away by high water."

Drowned there Saturday night were Ralph Hensley, 23, of Cincinnati, and Kenneth Hatton, 35, of Newport, Ky.

In drownings elsewhere, Scott Born, 7½, drowned Sunday in a water filled quarry in Salisbury Park near Kenton. The boy had been camping there with his parents.

Near Springfield, Dennis S. Hostetter, 30, drowned in a flooded gravel pit in western Clark County Sunday.

Ronnie Whitaker, 21, of Mount Orab, drowned early Sunday morning in a boating accident on Lake Grant in Brown County.

Reckless driving is just as dangerous on water as it is on land, reminds the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. Ohio boaters are urged to operate their crafts safely. Don't speed when close to other watercraft. Avoid the vicinity of dams or other hazardous structures as well as swimming areas.

FLEA MARKET — The Central Ohio Gun and Indian Relic Collectors Association's weekend show and flea market was probably the largest ever held here, according to

Kenneth Craig, president of the association. Pictured above is one of the hundreds of stations covering the fairgrounds. More than 2,000 cars were parked at the Fairground over the weekend, and the crowd was estimated at nearly 6,000

Snake handlers ignore court ban

SWITZER, W. Va. (AP) — A baby was the only quiet thing during the sweltering, swaying three and a half hour service at the Full Gospel Jesus Church.

Even the poisonous snakes made their presence known, the rattlers sending up an occasional ominous buzzing with their tails from the cages beside the pulpit.

About 100 persons praised the Lord at the top of their lungs and with all of their energy in the neat cement block building sandwiched between the Royal Crown Bottling Co. and the Mico Drive-In in this little town just south of Logan.

Cymbals, two drums, a tambourine and four guitars—two of them electric and one with a Confederate flag decal—accompanied the spirited singing of such songs as "Give Me That Old-Time Religion" and "You Gotta Move."

The building rocked and the crowd reached fever pitch during the singing of the latter song, and frenzied devotees showed their faith by brazenly handling the serpents.

Twice during the long Sunday afternoon about half the congregation surged around the boxes containing, according to the Rev. Kelly Williams, bishop of the church, eight rattlesnakes and five copperheads.

9 accords given OK by leaders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here are the nine U.S.-Soviet pacts signed last week during meetings between President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev:

NUCLEAR WAR — Agreement not to provoke nuclear conflict by straining relations with other countries.

NUCLEAR ARMS-ENERGY — Principles defined for more negotiations on nuclear arms limitation and cooperative uses of atomic energy in peace strengthened.

TRANSPORTATION — Pledged cooperation in solving land, air and sea transportation problems.

AIR TRAVEL — Added American and Soviet stops for passenger service of Aeroflot and Pan American airlines.

CULTURE — Expanded scientific, cultural, technological and educational contacts and exchanges.

COMMERCE — Established a U.S.-U.S.S.R. Chamber of Commerce and set up its physical facilities.

TAXATION — Agreed to reduce income taxes on citizens of one country living in the other.

AGRICULTURE — Planned trade, research, development, production and processing cooperation.

OCEANOGRAPHY — Agreed on cooperative study of world oceans.

Richard Williams of Columbus, Ohio, led the way in picking up and handling the snakes, some of them over four feet long, as if they were the tamest of pets.

The elder Williams cited New Testament authority, the 17th and 18th verses of the 16th chapter of Mark, for the action.

Those scriptures say: "And these signs shall follow them that believe; in my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."

The only baby in the crowd was well-behaved when he wasn't sleeping during the ever noisy service.

The decibel level was high even before the start of the service. As the electric guitars twanged away, leaders mixed with the crowd, shaking hands and embracing with the greeting, "Praise Jesus."

Some of the crowd started moving rhythmically in a fashion resembling a cross between square dancing and modern rock movements.

A single window air conditioner labored, but couldn't keep the temperature down in the clean, simple paneled church, which has a sign out front saying simply, "Jesus." The same legend is below a sunburst clock at the front of the auditorium.

4 taken hostage at prison; inmates demands under study

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three Kentucky State Penitentiary convicts released four hostages unharmed today after holding them for 18 hours in the canteen of the fortresslike prison in Western Kentucky.

The three surrendered and turned in two long knives and a soldering tool they had used to hold a prison guard, civilian employee and two inmates.

The three made a series of written demands and among the major ones was a transfer to the state reformatory at LaGrange.

The hostages were taken home immediately, except for the two inmates. They said they had been generally well treated although they looked shaken.

Authorities of the prison, on the banks of the Cumberland River, identified the three convicts as Jerry Tingle, 20, of Carrollton, under a five-year sentence for storehouse breaking; Gerald Fair, 24, of Lexington, sentenced to ten years for armed assault with intent to rob; and Danny Lee Dobson, 23, of Louisville, serving 18 years for storehouse breaking and holding a hostage.

Authorities said Dobson and Tingle were among five prisoners who held several hostages about nine months ago in a similar episode. Tingle has not yet been tried for that incident.

Explosions damage Holiday Inn site

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Suburban Independence police said they were investigating two explosions which caused $50,000 damage at a Holiday Inn construction site Sunday.

Police said the two blasts rattled dishes in nearby homes but apparently only damaged concrete room forms at the rear of the site.

NOTICE

All artificial flowers must be removed by July 1st.

WAYNE TOWNSHIP CEMETERY

Corrections Commissioner Charles Holmes flew from Frankfort during the night to the prison 250 miles away, to "get things moving" after a deadlock ensued between the three convicts and prison officials.

Holmes refused to talk to the prisoners until the hostages were released. Conversations were carried out mainly by telephone, although guards occasionally approached the door of the canteen to exchange words.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — America's oil companies last year spent an estimated $112,370,000 on television ads aimed at getting you to stop at their gas stations. Now they're spending millions to get you to conserve gas.

This is called irony in some quarters, a national gasoline shortage in others. The oil companies don't want you to stop buying gas. They now just want you to use it more wisely than before. Six major companies—Mobil, Exxon, Gulf, Texaco, Amoco and Shell—say they've stopped or are phasing out their broadcast advertising created specifically to sell gasoline.

Of those six, only the Gulf Oil Co. says it has yet to begin a broadcast campaign with the theme of gasoline conservation. A spokesman for the company says it'll probably start such a campaign soon.

The latest entry in the save-the-gas derby is the Shell Oil Co., which today kicks off a major summer campaign that includes six 30-second television commercials starring actor Richard Basehart.

He'll offer tips on how motorists can conserve gasoline during the shortage, a Shell spokesman says.

Singer Johnny Cash already is doing that for Amoco.

The estimate of $112,370,000 spent by oil companies on network and area television advertising comes from the Television Bureau of Advertising, which is supported by the television industry. The companies decline to say how much they spent on the tube last year.

According to TVB, last year's big spender was Shell, which coughed up $21,446,300 for television advertising. That's enough to buy a really good bicycle if the gas shortage gets worse this year.

The six companies spent money not only on direct sales pitches on TV but also on indirect sales campaigns known as "institutional advertising." That approach doesn't urge you to buy products but instead emphasizes the good deeds and contributions of the company.

The companies, some of which began discontinuing their "product" ads as far back as late April, say they'll continue those of the "institutional variety" with some keyed to the idea of conserving gas.

When will they all go back to direct advertising for gasoline the way they did it in the good old days? None said they knew.

"Who knows how long the (gas) shortage is going to last?" asked Mobil's spokesman. "That's the answer to the question, really. And nobody knows."

In Biblical times, the King of Tyre sent timber to Jerusalem to King Solomon in exchange for 20,000 measures of wheat.

Steel boom said mostly profitless

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The nation's steel industry is amid its biggest boom but "is locked by presidential decree into a prosperity that's either profitless or nearly so," Industry-Week said today.

The weekly magazine said price increases which had been scheduled for June 17 on steel sheets and strips were suspended for 60 days by President Nixon's price freeze.

These products, which comprise about 45 per cent of the output of the nation's mills "had been unchanged in price since January 1972, and the industry had looked to a price increase to help it do better than earn slim profits," the magazine reported.

Since the last price rise, costs have risen sharply, and steel workers will get another pay hike of 12.5 cents an hour, plus additional fringe benefits Aug. 1 "before the 60-day price freeze ends," it added.

Meanwhile, steel firms report there is no slackening in demand. "Order backlogs are at record high levels and are growing at those firms which have opened fourth quarter order books," Industry Week said.

"Most steel company executives and analysts now agree that B.S. mill shipments for 1973 will reach a record of at least 106 million net tons."

More than 100 airplanes from various parts of Ohio and other states visited the Fayette County Airport Sunday, making the airport's annual "fly-in" the "best ever," according to Mrs. Judy Dennis, who assists her husband, Bill Dennis, in the management of the facility.

An estimated crowd of 1,000, including pilots and visitors who drove to the airport, was on hand for the day's festivities, including a breakfast and spot landing and "bombing" competition.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

WASHINGTON — Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev's visit to the United States marks the second meeting between President Nixon and the "Chairman" in 13 months.

Considering the fact that prior to last year's summit a full 14 years had lapsed between an official meeting of American and Russian heads of state, this event in itself is a remarkable breakthrough.

The agreements reached during this latest summit — while not on the level of the major accords resulting from President Nixon's historic trip to Moscow last year — are extremely significant.

Not only do the expanded technological and cultural exchanges promise to benefit both nations, but they also contribute to a further relaxation in the strained relations between Russia and the United States. It is hoped that in the atmosphere of goodwill generated by these pacts, the more serious and critical matters of nuclear disarmament, trade policy and the conflicts in Southeast Asia and the Mideast can be discussed and peaceful solutions eventually reached.

Unquestionably, the detente with Russia is a great credit to President Nixon's skillful and highly successful foreign policy initiatives. Moreover, it is an important step toward relieving world tensions.

WSHS graduate at conference in Washington

J. Mike Domenico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Domenico, 137 River Rd., is attending the 1973 Youth Governors' Conference sponsored by the National Council of YMCAs. The event is being held in Washington D. C. through June 30.

The 75 youths attending are to be given the opportunity to meet with government officials to discuss national and international politics, national problems and foreign affairs.

Attending the conference are young people who were elected to the office of governor at the YMCA Youth in Government Programs, youths who were elected chief justice of the model state Supreme Court, and the young people who were elected secretary-general of the model United Nations Programs.

Domenico is a 1973 graduate of Washington Senior High School and was president of the Hi-Y Club. He was elected youth chief justice of the model Ohio Supreme Court at the Hi-Y Youth in Government Program in Columbus.

The division of watercraft of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources reminds all Ohio boaters to tell a friend or relative when, where and for how long they're going when they go on a boating cruise. The boater should be sure to provide a description of the boat. If the boater has an accident, the information could save his life and the lives of others on the boat.

AS THE ranking minority member of the House Public Works Committee, which deals with many of this country's transportation matters, I attended the ceremony at which the first of these U.S. - Russian pacts — involving cultural exchanges and the joint research of transportation, farming and oceanography — was signed. In all of these areas, both the United States and Russia stand to gain from the exchange.

The agricultural agreement, for example, calls for the exchange of information and estimates on production, consumption, demand and trade in major agricultural commodities and for increased cooperation in agricultural research. Such a program could help U.S. experts better predict the need for future Soviet grain sales, and this type of data could have a direct impact on Ohio farmers and their own grain production.

Under the transportation agreement, the United States may benefit from Russian know-how about operating transportation systems and building bridges and tunnels in extremely cold weather. Specifically, the five-year pact calls for exchange of information about cold weather construction, railway transportation, civil aviation, traffic control and safety, and maritime and automobile problems.

COMBINED with existing and successful exchange programs with Russia on such important common interests as the environment, medicine and space exploration, these new pacts promise to further enhance our relations with that country. However, they do not solve the more serious matters of nuclear disarmament and trade negotiations where we cannot afford to compromise either our defense posture or our economy.

On trade, Mr. Brezhnev is seeking large-scale, long term agreements and conferment of the economically advantageous "most favored nation" trade status with America. Possible trade areas involved Russian natural gas and other resources for modern American technological and agricultural products.

I am vitally concerned, particularly in view of the Russian wheat sales last year which contributed to increased food prices in America, that we do not engage in a trade policy tantamount to subsidizing Soviet growth at the expense of the American farmer and consumer.

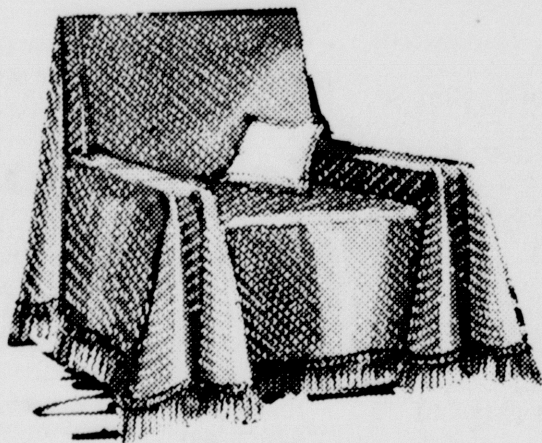

Nuclear disarmament is perhaps the most important subject of these Nixon-Brezhnev meetings, and what the two leaders discussed will have a great impact on the outcome of the arms limitations talks between the U.S. and Russia.

The results of these negotiations, as well as the entire Brezhnev visit, promise to have a lasting effect on the warming of relations between the United States and Russia — two great superpowers who must work seriously toward peaceful co-existence in this nuclear age, particularly if we are to have a "generation of peace" in the years ahead.

Crampton bags Akron golf loot

AKRON, Ohio (AP) —Bruce Crampton is looking for a million dollars. It's just a matter of time before the Australian veteran happily embraces that magic figure in career earnings.

"I think I can safely expect to go past the million this year," Crampton chuckled after winning the $32,000 first prize Sunday in the American Golf Classic.

His scrambling 68 in the final round—he missed seven greens and saved par on five of them—nailed down his fourth victory of the season and pushed his

McMullen's torrid stick ignites LA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In case you were wondering, Ken McMullen still works for the Los Angeles Dodgers. And if you don't believe it, just ask the Cincinnati Reds.

McMullen, all but totally absent from the Los Angeles scene this season, appeared out of the deep recesses of the Dodger dugout and destroyed the Reds during the weekend.

The veteran third baseman ripped his second homer in as many days Sunday and drove in three runs in Los Angeles' 5-2 victory over Cincinnati.

San Francisco in the NL West. Steve Garvey also homered for the Dodgers and Al Downing won his sixth game in nine decisions.

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, Houston swept a doubleheader from San Francisco, 7-6 and 8-3, Philadelphia edged Montreal 5-4, New York defeated Pittsburgh 5-2, Chicago shut out St. Louis 2-0 and Atlanta beat San Diego 6-1.

Doug Radar's bases-loaded single in the ninth inning drove in Houston's winning run in the first game against the Giants and then the Astro third baseman contributed a homer and a two-run double to the nightcap victory.

Cesar Cedeno tagged a grand slam in the first game but the Giants wiped out a six-run Houston lead on a pair of three-run homers by Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey before Radar's infield single decided the issue.

In the second game, the Astros snapped a 1-1 tie with two runs in the seventh and then Radar homered in the eighth and added two more RBIs with a double in the four-run ninth.

Philadelphia got solo homers from Tommy Hutton, Bob Boone and Cesar Tovar to defeat Montreal. The Expos made it close on Ken Singleton's three-run homer in the eighth but Billy Wilson saved the victory for Jim Lonborg.

Atlanta's hitters couldn't do much about San Diego's Steve Arlin, managing just one hit off the pitching dentist for seven innings. But Arlin got in trouble with a couple of walks in the eighth and Ralph Garr tagged him for a grand slam home run that helped the Braves beat the Padres.

Arlin was leading 1-0 before Garr's shot turned the game around for Atlanta.

Glenn Beckert's two-run pinch single broke up a scoreless tie and moved the Chicago Cubs past St. Louis. Milt Pappas throttled the Cardinals on just five hits. The Cubs managed just two against Tom Murphy until their winning rally in the eighth.

SCOL increases ticket prices

The South Central Ohio League Board of Control, with league expansion apparently satisfied for the time being with the acceptance of Unioto into the fold, has started to concentrate its efforts on the financial status of the league.

The SCOL board, which governs all league sports activities of the six participating schools, has increased the price of tickets for football and basketball games, effective at the beginning of the 1973-74 season.

BOARD MEMBERS cited the rising costs of athletic equipment as the primary reason for the price hike.

Beginning this football season, student tickets will be priced at $1 at the door. Student tickets were originally 75 cents. Adult tickets, which were originally priced at $1.25, will cost $1.50 at the door.

Schools will be permitted to hold ticket pre-sales at a reduced rate for their home football and basketball games, the board pointed out.

League financing will be discussed at the board's next meeting. The fall, winter and spring sports banquets, plus the league dues paid by each participating school are the sole sources of income for the SCOL.

Jeff continues surge in Babe Ruth chase

Jeffersonville continued its surge in the Fayette County Babe Ruth League Saturday by bopping winless Wilson Chevrolet 16-7 in a rescheduled game at the Jeffersonville diamond.

The win was Jeffersonville's fifth in six outings this summer and kept Jeff in stride with Willis Insurance, which also owns a 5-1 mark.

Asolid 16-hit attack guided Jeffersonville to the win over coach Gary Dunn's Wilson Chevrolet team.

JEFF PRATER sparked the 16-hit attack with a pair of doubles and two singles and knocked in five runs. Richard Gill and Smith winning pitcher Rick Bobbitt all had a double and two singles, while Tyree provided ample backing in the attack with a pair of singles.

Bobbitt hurled the distance for Jeffersonville, scattering seven hits and striking out two Wilson Chevrolet hitters.

Jeffersonville, behind the hard-hitting offensive attack, scored at least two runs in five of the six innings it sent batters to the plate. Wilson opened the game with a three-run spurt in the first inning, but Jeff bounced back to stack up a comfortable 10-3 lead after three innings of play.

Randy Gardner absorbed the setback for Wilson Chevrolet, now 0-6 on the summer campaign, working two innings and giving up eight runs in four innings.

Gardner sparked a seven-hit effort for Wilson with a double, while Tom Dean had three singles and Charles Happenny stroked a pair of safeties.

Disastrous road trip

Legion team suffers SCOL twinbill loss

Record-Herald Sports Editor

Washington C. H.'s Post 25 American Legion baseball team stumbled in the South Central Ohio League pennant chase by dropping both ends of a doubleheader to Chillicothe Post 757 Sunday afternoon at Bolmer Field.

The Post 25 Legionnaires faltered to a lowly 1-4 showing in the SCOL as the hard-hitting Chillicothe Post 757 team posted victories by the scores of 9-5 and 7-4. It was Post 25's second SCOL doubleheader loss.

THE TWIN loss coupled with a 3-1 setback at Cincinnati Bentley Saturday night ruined the weekend for manager Dennis Morris' Washington C. H. team. The loss to the strong Cincinnati Bentley team at Delhi Field Saturday clipped Post 25's two-game win string.

Mental mistakes coupled with fielding miscues proved to be Post 25's downfall in Sunday's outing at Chillicothe as the Fayette Countians out-hit their SCOL rivals in both games.

Randy Rodgers and Randy Reiber, a pair of hurlers who picked up Washington C. H.'s only two victories earlier in the week, ran into ill fortune in Sunday's SCOL twinbill.

The Ross Countians, who raised their SCOL record to 6-1 with the two wins, took advantage of Post 25's fielding lapses and chased Rodgers from the mound in the opening game after scoring nine runs on eight hits.

In the opener, Chillicothe stacked up all nine of its runs before five innings were completed.

Greg Weaver registered the win for Chillicothe in the first game, but needed late help from lefthander Doug Tracy, who slammed the door on a potential Post 25 rally.

CHILICOTHE zippped to a 3-0 margin in the opening inning of the nightcap and bunched together a run in the fourth and three more in the fifth to climax the win.

Randy Hill, a pint-sized righthander, worked seven innings giving up four runs on seven hits and fanning six Post 25 hitters to gain the victory. Reiber, who tossed a four-hitter his last time out, was roughed up early and left the game after four and one-third innings of work.

Steve Chester, a hard-hitting first baseman, sparked Chillicothe's twinbill sweep with five hits in eight appearances in the two games. A two-run homer by Chester highlighted the second game. Chester, who was behind the plate in the nightcap, knocked in six runs and scored three times.

Jim Echstein, a hefty southpaw who won the final game for Cincinnati Elder in the Ohio Class AAA baseball tournament this spring, restricted Washington C. H. to four hits in Saturday night's game with always-tough Cincinnati Bentley.

Veteran manager Joe Hawk's Bentley team staked Echstein to a 1-0 lead in the third inning, but Post 25 battled back to tie the score in the fourth when infielder Tony Grooms doubled and later scored on a throwing error.

Following Post 25's tally in the fourth inning, Echstein permitted only four Washington C. H. players to reach the basepaths and finished with 11 strikeouts.

Post 25 received strong performances from two relief pitchers over the weekend. Steve Basile and Jeff Green, a pair of hurlers from Madison Plains, combined for a total of eight and one-third scoreless innings in the three games.

GREEN HELD both Cincinnati Bentley and Chillicothe hitless after relieving starters Mark Johnson and Randy Rodgers. He worked a total of four and one-third innings and fanned five batters.

Bailey, in a four-inning stint at Chillicothe, allowed only two hits and whiffed six hitters.

Washington C. H.'s Alan Coppock continued to his torrid hitting spree in the three-game road trip, pounding out five hits in 10 appearances at the plate. The five hits raised Coppock's average 27 points from .421 to .448.

Post 25, now 2-6 on the season, will entertain Lebanon at 6 p.m. Tuesday at the WSHS diamond. Mark Johnson (0-2) is scheduled to pitch for Washington C. H. in the non-league game.

Boston's Dave Cowens in home run contest

CINCINNATI — Dave Cowens, the Most Valuable Player in the National Basketball Association last winter, will try his hand at another sport at Riverfront Stadium Thursday night in the Cincinnati Reds' annual Celebrity Home Run Contest.

Cowens, the Boston Celtics star from Newport, heads a cast of eight professional athletes from other sports who will try their hands at baseball. Each man will get 10 swings in the contest, which gets underway at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, just prior to the Reds' game with San Diego.

The Cincinnati Bengals will be represented by center Bob Johnson, while winger Rick Dudley will be on hand in his Cincinnati Swords hockey uniform. Dr. Jerry Graham, the massive wrestler, will try to get a stranglehold on a baseball bat. The other competitors will be tennis pro

There's some bad feeling between the Cleveland Indians and Milwaukee Brewers and the Kansas City Royals and Texas Rangers, but for feeling bad how about the plight of the Detroit Tigers?

The Indians and Brewers, Royals and Rangers added some extra-

Howard Zaeh from Camargo C.C.; bowler Eddie Jackson; jockey Ralph Borgemenke from River Downs and golf pro Bob Wilmers from Hyde Park C.C.

WHILE THE celebrities may not actually hit many home runs, the Reds are hopeful of collecting a lot of roundtrippers themselves in the big nine-game homestand that begins Thursday night.

After the Padres are here for 8:05 p.m. games on Thursday and Friday, two of the Reds' top rivals are next in line.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are booked for four games, including a 1:15 Sunday doubleheader that is also Banner Day. Cash prizes will be awarded to the top batters on display during an hour-long parade between games. Saturday's twilight game begins at 5:30 and the Reds and Dodgers play again Monday at 8:05.

There will definitely be fireworks on Tuesday, even if not from baseball explosions. A giant fireworks display will follow the July 3 game (8:05) against San Francisco. Wednesday's Fourth of July game will be a rare morning game, with an 11 a.m. starting time. Some lucky fan will win a Ford Pinto from Riverside Ford. The homestand concludes with an 8:05 meeting between the Reds and Giants on Thursday.

Ohio State shoot draws 7,459 persons

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—A tournament record of 7,459 people participated in the five-day 87th annual Ohio State Trapshoot which ended Sunday, officials reported.

And a world's mark was set for the number of targets shot at on one day when shooters took aim Saturday at 360,200 birds.

Ron Peters, tournament director, said the previous record was 359,800 set last year during the Clay Target Championship of America in the Grand American Trapshoot.

The Grand American, also held on the Amateur Trapshooting Association grounds here, is the biggest in the world. The state tournament is the second largest.

The doubles championship Sunday was a family affair.

Fred Bischel, 40, of Gahanna, won the men's title with a 98 and a shootoff victory over Jack Neal of Athens. Cathy Bischel, 15, won the women's title with a score of 90.

Bischel said the title was his biggest since he started shooting in 1968. Cathy started to shoot a year later and this was her top championship.

"I may have started her but actually she's done it on her own", her father said.

curricular fisticuffs to their scheduled baseball activities Sunday while the only thing the Tigers added was two more losses, their sixth and seventh in a row.

When the swinging and shouting were done, the red-hot New York Yankees had won a doubleheader from the Tigers 3-2 and 2-1, the Brewers had outslugged the Indians 8-3, the Royals had whipped the Rangers twice 7-4 and 10-6, the Orioles had dropped a 1-0 squeaker to the Boston Red Sox, the Angels had defeated the Twins 3-0 after dropping the opener 5-1 and the Chicago White Sox recovered from a 7-0 drubbing by the Oakland A's to take the nightcap 11-1.

Darrell Porter and Tim Johnson drove in two runs apiece in the fight-marred fifth inning and George Scott homered in the sixth as the Brewers turned back the Indians.

Both benches and bullpens emptied after Milwaukee's Bob Coluccio was thrown out in a collision at the plate and had words with Cleveland catcher John Ellis. When they started for each other, Brewer third baseman Don Money jumped in and started fighting with Ellis.

The melee ended quickly and Ellis and Coluccio were ejected, but several players streamed onto the field again moments later when Milwaukee's Pedro Garcia started for the mound after a pitch from Ray Lamb sailed near his head.

In Kansas City, Ed Kirkpatrick of the Royals was ejected from the second game after engaging in a brief fight

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The 37th annual Hoosier Futurity harness racing program, which paid out more than $66,000 in four races at last year's Indiana State Fair, appears headed for an even higher purse payoff this year.

Revson gains pole position for running of Schaefer 500

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP)—Peter Revson will start in the pole position in Sunday's Schaefer 500. The fact that he's sitting there isn't all that surprising, because he's running for the well-backed Team McLaren.

Jerry Karl drives for one of the unsung independent owners who ply the U.S. Auto Club's championship circuit. His machine is powered by a turbocharged Chevrolet engine.

Some people will tell you he's got two strikes against him before even firing up his stockblocker. He has to match horsepower with the $3,000 Offenhauser and Ford racing plants.

Revson and 26 other drivers are assured of starts in the $400,000 Schaefer—third richest auto race in this country and one of three 500 milers that make up USAC's "triple crown" series. Karl isn't sure of a start yet, but he almost had one in the bag.

Karl and his car, a product of Smoky Yunick and built in the "best damn garage" in Daytona Beach, Fla., had been among the fastest runners during a week of practice at Pocono International Raceway. Off those runs, he figured to start well up in the field.

But a series of problems—some of his own making and others over which benches emptying.

Cookie Rojas drove in the winning run in the opener as no-hit Steve Busby notched his first win since May 4. Rookie Frank White singled home the winner in the nightcap as the Royals moved into first place in the West Division by one game over Chicago and Oakland and 1½ over Minnesota and California.

Pinch hitter Winston Llenas lashed a two-run bases-loaded single in the ninth inning following a two-out error by Minnesota second baseman Rod Carew and Vada Pinson added a run-scoring single, pacing the Angels to victory over the Twins in their nightcap. The Twins took the opener as dropped flies by Angel left fielder Richie Scheinblum and first baseman Mike Epstein made three of their five runs unearned.

he had very little control—kept him from his appointed task.

There was, however, one saving grace. Karl will get another chance in a special qualifying session Wednesday morning to make up for rained-shortened trials.

Revson, a handsome native of New York City who now lives in California, edged Al Unser and Mario Andretti for the pole on Saturday. Unser and Andretti, driving identical Viceroy's Offys built by former Indianapolis winner Parnelli Jones, turned in four-lap speeds of 190.567 and 190.164 m.p.h. to nail the other front row berths.

Every day is Independence Day

at Heinold Hog Markets.

The Heinold Way has provided farmers freedom in marketing for 23 years.

Freedom to pick any day—any hour—to market hogs at their convenience. Freedom from inefficiency in marketing. Freedom from excessive shrink that contributed to high costs of marketing a long distance from the farm. Freedom to use the farm's truck or pickup to market five or 50 hogs, or hire a semi-trailer to deliver 150. Freedom from paying commissions, yardage, or auction charges. Freedom to sell all weights and all kinds of hogs—boars, sows, out-hogs—at one market.

The Heinold Way made it possible for hog producers to pick up their phone and establish a price for their hogs, before they ever loaded them up. Farmers became free not to commit hogs to market until satisfied with the price. At Heinold, the check is written immediately on arrival weights. Farmers have the use of their money right now!

That's why it's Independence Day every day for hog producers at Heinold! For market information, call

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and consequently misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

Tread Wear Expectancy	Tread Wearout Allowance
40,000 miles	Pro-rated on Miles Driven
45 months	$13.00
40 months	10.00
39 months	8.00

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	Pass	1♥
Pass	2♣	Pass	3♣
Pass	3♥

Opening lead-four of spades.
Here is a sample of exceptionally fine defense. The hand occurred in the 1965 trials.

South got to three hearts and West led a spade, the jack losing to the ace. East returned a diamond, South taking the ace and returning a spade towards the queen.

West went up with the king and returned a low diamond, the queen forcing the king.

Declarer played a trump to the jack and discarded the ten of diamonds on the queen of spades to produce this position:

♠	—	♠	10
♥	A 6	♥	8 5 4
♦	9 8	♦	7
♣	K 10 9	♣	J 7

Declarer now lead the nine of clubs to the queen and West made the first of a remarkable series of plays by following suit with the deuce. South lead another club and, when West again played low, finessed the ten, since he thought East had the ace and hoped West had the jack.

But East took the jack and made an excellent cooperative return of a trump, which South won with the ten. Declarer then led a club to the lone king, and for the third successive time West played low!

East ruffed, led another trump, and — since declarer still had a club to lose — he went down one. West finally scored his ace of clubs at trick thirteen.

RH Factor's Dangers Reduced

Can you explain the RH factor simply? I have never gotten anything but a confusing explanation.

Mrs. E. E., Tex.

Dear Mrs. E.:

Many young married couples are similarly confused when they are told that an RH problem exists in that blood.

Fortunately, many new and remarkable advances have been made in the study of hematology (diseases of the blood) that now reduce the hazards associated with this problem.

RH disorders are recognized early in the pregnancy, and plans can be made to remove most of the dangers to the newborn child.

The blood of most people is classified as "RH positive." Relatively few people are "RH negative."

When both the wife and the husband are RH positive, or when they are both RH negative, the baby will not be affected at birth.

If the wife is RH positive, and the husband is RH negative, the baby will not be affected at birth.

It is only in those relatively rare instances when the wife is RH negative and the husband is RH positive that close observation throughout pregnancy becomes important.

In such a situation, if the baby growing in the uterus happens to inherit the father's RH positive factor, a complex interchange takes place between the mother and the baby.

When this occurs, special antibodies are produced in this interchange that may be responsible for anemia and jaundice in the newborn baby.

It is interesting to know that a first-born child is rarely an "RH baby."

even when the mother is RH negative and the father is RH positive. It is only in subsequent pregnancies that the possibility of an RH problem may arise.

There are now ways by which the mother and the child can be protected from the complications formerly associated with RH factor pregnancies.

Young married couples with RH incompatibility can derive great comfort from the medical strides made to overcome this problem.

I have a constant clicking in my ear when I chew on something hard.

My hearing is good, but I am concerned that eventually it may be affected by it.

Miss R. O., Wis.

Dear Miss O.:
The sound you describe is probably due to some problem in your jaw joint.

Almost always, this can be traced to some malocclusion, or interference, with proper bite.

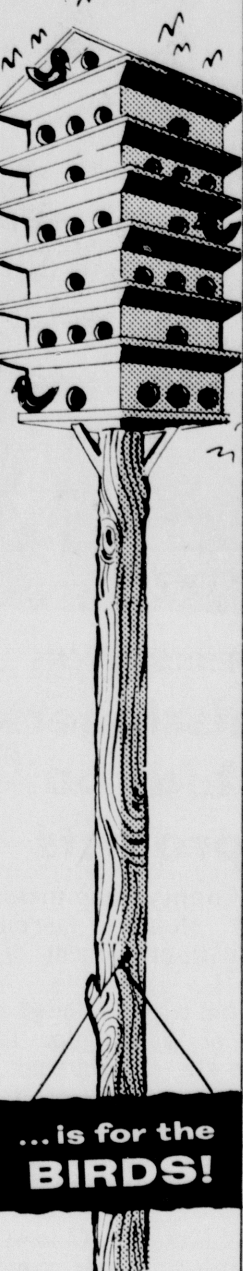

There is virtually no possibility that your hearing will be affected by this condition.

It is important that the bite be changed and readjusted by your dentist so that chronic changes in the jaw joint will be prevented.

When jaw joint conditions are overlooked or neglected, erosion of the bone and the cartilage can occur. Then the problem becomes difficult to reverse.

There are now many dentists who specialize in the problems of the temporomandibular joint (jaw joint). Brilliant advances made in this area can readily correct the problem.
